Seventh Home-coming Breaks Attendance Record

We have sent out a good bit of home-coming information in the last two months but we are sure you will be interested to hear a little of what went on on the Campus those two days of Friday and Saturday, October 20.

The hand-shaking and back-slapping began on Friday morning about eleven o'clock in the Trophy Room where registration took place. The Faculty Committee on Historical Records had set up a most interesting exhibit of pictures of the 1908 Class and there was always a group of persons around this exhibit enjoying the pictures of the first students at C. I. T. The 1908 Class which celebrated its Twenty-fifth Reunion surely had a splendid time. Such reminiscing! Fifty percent of the class returned.

President Baker's luncheon for the oldest class was a most enjoyable affair. In addition to the class members and their guests the president had invited a number of the members of the early faculty, and Dr. Webster N. Jones, the director of the Engineering College. The general alumni luncheon held in the Carnegie Inn was better attended than ever before. This affair grows each year and it has now reached the place where we are quite proud of the attendance.

From the luncheons all the alumni and their guests went to Administration Hall to witness the presentation of the floor plaque by the Class of 1933. President Baker officially greeted the alumni and accepted the 1933 gift, which was presented by Melvin Jones representing the class. Members of the Glee Club sang "Dear Old Tech" and the Alma Mater, while the Mortar Board and Dragon Society members assisted the reunion committee in keeping the crowd in order.

Miss Green's tea for the alumnae was well attended and the girls enjoyed the opportunity this affair afforded them to meet with their school friends once again.

The Studio Party was a great success with about five hundred alumni and guests attending. The Department of Drama arranged three short plays which were most enjoyable, and the alumni are most grateful to the Department for giving this special performance.

Saturday morning was left open for alumni to follow their own pursuits, but about noon the reunion classes resumed activities. The M. M. groups of 1913, 1918 and 1923 had luncheons, while others met in impromptu groups for luncheon and then went up to the Stadium for the game. And what a game! The first few minutes were almost too exciting and the rest of the game was entirely too tense. You could just hear the sighs of relief and relaxation when the final whistle blew and the score was CARNEGIE—7 NOTRE DAME—0.

Need we tell you that after a game like that the

Dinner Dance was more than a success? You haven't seen such spirit—and we mean good old college spirit—at a dinner dance in years. Howard Harpster came in about nine o'clock and was greeted with an ovation in the form of a cheer led by none other than "Al" Minetti. Earlier in the evening J. B. "Louge" Sprague and Gordon "Safety" First had been out on the floor urging the crowd on to better and better cheers. Harpster made a short speech later in the evening, and altogether it was a most successful party and a fitting close to one of the best home-comings ever arranged.

The Alumni Federation wants to take this opportunity to thank the members of the Homecoming Committee for their earnest and interested work in planning and carrying to a close the Seventh Annual Home-coming.

The Home-coming registration files show that the following persons were back on the Campus:

Clan Activities

WOMEN'S CLAN OF PHILADELPHIA

The first meeting of the new season on September 9, found the old crowd back again at the home of Mrs. Robert E. Lees, Old Gulch Road, Narberth, Pa. Assembled on the spacious lawn the Clan enjoyed a wonderful afternoon. An interesting program of meetings was planned for the year and a resolution was passed to push ahead every effort to draw into Clan activity as many Carnegie alumnae as can be found in the vicinity of Philadelphia.

The second meeting was held at the home of Helen Reed Mutch in Germantown on Saturday afternoon, October 14. Plans were made for a clan bridge party to be given at the home of Mrs. De Forest L. Trautman, 933 Cornell Ave., Drexel Hill, Pa., on Saturday afternoon, November 11.

Alumnae located in and around Philadelphia are cordially invited to participate in the clan's activities. Miss Leah Rothaus, 343 S. Hicks St., Philadelphia, Pa., will be pleased to hear from any alumnae who are not at present receiving notices of the clan's affairs.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Following an active program for the year 1932-33 the Southern California Clan began the 1933-34 activities with a stag party held in October at the Jonathan Club at which about twenty former students and alumni of Carnegie were present. The evening was begun with a buffet supper at six-thirty and the crowd spent the evening playing poker, bridge, etc. The last of the group left at three-thirty in the morning, which is certainly an indication that they enjoyed themselves.

The clan officers consist of only one—Charles Fleishman, who is now president. His address is % A. J. Bayer Company, Slauson and Santa Fe Avenues, Los Angeles, Calif.

Almost every Monday noon a group of alumni have lunch together. The following six persons, James H. Knapp, Pat Ryan, Charles Fleishman, James Hall, Jack Meredith, G. R. Brandin, can be depended on to show up at the Monday gathering. Colonel Foster was present at a recent meeting of the group and gave them an account of his recent visit to Pittsburgh for the twenty-fifth reunion of his class.

AKRON

The Akron Clan had a smoker at the home of J. Ralph Barrow on November 3, to initiate Ralph's new cellar which is equipped with a bowling alley.

Following the resignation of president Harry Frank, who moved to Canton last spring, an election was held and Ralph Barrow was elected president of the group for the year. Mr. Barrow is a member of the firm of Ely & Barrow, patent attorneys in Akron.

Present at the meeting were: J. N. Good, E. L. Bruggeman, Harold Jefferson, W. O. Clinedinst, T. W. Hunter, G. C. Northy, J. L. Ruth, Earl Patterson, Al Werner, John Cahill, Ed Kraus, George Bruggemeier, Wm. Fraser, John Jayme, John Dean, Lou Greibling, Al Heston, Ralph Barrow, Tom Gotham.

Bridge prizes went to Fraser and Bruggeman, and the bowling honors to Jayme and Jefferson.

The next meeting of the clan is planned for December 8 at the cabin of J. L. Ruth on Long Lake.

YOUNGSTOWN REORGANIZES TO FORM VALLEY CLAN

Members of the former Youngstown Clan were guests at the home of James O. Keighley of Sharon, Pa., where Mr. Keighley and Mr. Andrew Sage of Farrell, Pa., were masters of entertainment and refreshments. Twenty-five men from Sharon, Farrell, Youngstown, and Warren enjoyed the evening. The name of the clan was changed to the Valley Clan since this seemed more appropriate for the widespread district in the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys.

The following officers were elected: president, Dwight V. Beede; vice-president, Andrew Sage; permanent secretary, Fred C. Beede.

Plans were made for several top-notch meetings with diversified programs for the winter season, one meeting to be a joint card party with the Carnegie women in the district.

Carnegie men in the district not receiving notices of the clan affairs are asked to call or write either L. M. Weed, 805 Elm Rd., N. E., Warren, Ohio, H. B. Hildebrand, 195 Ohio St., Sharon, Pa., or Fred C. Beede, 851 Canfield Rd., Youngstown, Ohio.

Football Review

Defeated but once and scored upon only in the game they lost, Carnegie Tech's Tartans have been the real surprise team of the 1933 football season. With the current campaign drawing to its close, and the Plaid still maintaining its splendid defensive work, it may be said that regardless of the outcome of the remaining games, the first year of the coaching regime of Howard Harpster and Don Lovewell has been successful far beyond the expectations of most alumni.

It was virtually a hopeless task that confronted the young coaches when they began work last Labor Day. Ten letter-men had been lost by graduation or the completion of their allotted time for college competition. In addition, Ray Tesser and Wilbur Plummer, right end and right tackle, had been dropped from school. Just how good a man Tesser was has been proven by his excellent work in the National Professional League. He has been playing at right end regularly for the Pittsburgh team, and has already earned the reputation of being the best punter in the league.

Harpster found no seasoned center at all, and no backs of outstanding ability. He and Lovewell plugged along, however, and the results to date show that they have done one of the finest pieces of coaching in this district in years. Taking their material as they found it, they whipped a team together that scored two mighty upsets in the first half of the season, and bowed only to the tremendous power of Purdue.

A rock-bound defensive line, a spirit that is probably the highest in Carnegie's football history, and a passing attack that must carry the burden where a light set of backs can't, has been responsible for the Plaid success to date.

The team that Harpster has been starting much of the season averages 185 pounds in the line and 161 pounds in the backfield. Ranging from Thurman Croft, 202 pounds, and Joe Mihm, 207 pounds, down to Steve Terebus, 148 pounds, the squad has but seven men weighing more than 185 pounds, and sixteen or just half the available man-power, weighing less than 175 pounds.

The fighting Skibos tossed a shock into college circles in their first start. With Glenn Warner's powerful Temple crew figured to push them over, they came through with an astounding 25 to 0 triumph, featuring a lightning passing attack and a dangerous open-field runner in the tiny Terebus. This game served warning to future opponents that Carnegie could not be held lightly.

Squeezing through to a 3 to 0 decision over a far under-rated Xavier eleven, Carnegie went into the annual Notre Dame game with a forlorn hope. Again the dope was scrambled, when Bevevino tossed a pass to Lewis for a touchdown on the third play of the game, and the Tartans protected that slim lead the rest of the way for their third victory over the famed Irish. Incidentally, it was Carnegie that started the parade of defeats for Notre Dame.

The W. & J. jinx reared its head in the fourth game, the first time that Carnegie was really outplayed this season, and a scoreless deadlock resulted. Purdue was the first team to defeat us this year, and likewise the first team to score. For a half the powerful Western Conference outfit tried in vain to dent the Scotch defense, but it required a runback of the second half kickoff for a touchdown to break the spell.

Another scoreless tie resulted from the Carnegie Michigan State encounter in East Lansing. It was one of the hardest-fought games of the year, and a most sensational battle, waged as it was on an icy gridiron. The team scored a 19-0 victory over Georgetown in Washington on November 18.

A resumé of the first part of the season would not be complete without paying tribute to Bernard "Bunny" Burzio, who has been the main-spring of the team to date. His play has been flawless in every game, and at this writing he was being mentioned all over the country as a prospective All-American selection. Keeping pace with him have been Captain Stewart, playing the best football of his career at left end, Lib Lewis, fiery right end, who has been the best pass receiver, and Cliff Doloway and Dutch Croft, sterling tackles. This is Doloway's first season as a regular, but he has been playing with all the steadiness of a veteran.

Howard Harpster's own description of his team explains it better than anything else. Says the coach: "We really have a mediocre team, but when it makes up its mind to fight, as it has most of the time this year, it is a match for any opposition."

Alumnae Notes

MARGARET MORRISON ALUMNAE ASSOCIATION

The Annual business meeting and tea of the Margaret Morrison Alumnae Association was held October 14 in the College Club. Attendance was a little disappointing. Twelve Margaret Morrison Classes were not represented. Pitt's football game with Navy no doubt attracted some who would have attended. The Class of 1932 again took honors for the largest representation, having eleven present; '33 was second with nine.

Frances Wing Graham, '20, reported one hundred and forty-four paid-up members in the Association at that date. It is hoped that our membership may be brought up considerably before the January tea.

At the conclusion of the business meeting motion pictures of the campus and various activities at Margaret Morrison were shown, and proved quite diverting.

After the meeting tea was served. Miss Green and Mrs. Watkins presided, each at an end of a long table in the charming dining room which adjoins the ball room of the College Club.

"VANISHING TEAS"

The Margaret Morrison Alumnae Association is sponsoring a series of "Vanishing Teas." At the business meeting on October 14, this plan was discussed and the Association voted to start the chain with the members of the executive board who will each entertain eight girls. Each of these eight in turn will entertain four girls. The hostess at each party will charge her guests twenty-five cents and turn the money over to the Association. In this way, if the chain is unbroken, the Association will receive $110, an amount which will go far to relieve the present strain on the treasury.

Each hostess is permitted to entertain in any way she chooses. If she cares to invite more than the specified number she is welcome to do so, but she is asked to see that the chain is unbroken.

Mildred Bastian, '30, is chairman of the "Vanishing Teas." The various women's clans are being asked to cooperate if possible. Any Margaret Morrison graduate who would like to start a chain is encouraged to do so. All the parties, however, should be given before Christmas.

The definite purpose of this undertaking is to relieve the treasury of the Margaret Morrison Alumnae Association but it should afford a welcome opportunity for renewing social contacts as well.

1909

MRS. F. I. GASTON, (Elizabeth Sheets), M, is living at 123 Beechwood Drive, Youngstown, Ohio.

1911

Who's Who in the Class of 1911.—MARIE HORNE CLARK, M, lives in State College, Pa. Betty Sue, her oldest child, is a senior at Penn State and is a Kappa Kappa Gamma. We are hoping to have her in Pittsburgh at the Carnegie Library School next year. William Clark, Jr., is in the eighth grade and has not a settled career as yet. Bill Sr. deals in Packards and Auburns, while our classmate Marie manages a dear little dress shop called "The Band Box." Who's Who next month depends on you.—HELEN BAGLIN GALLEHER, Representative.

1913

The M. M. '13 girls—the class was small and there are few of us in Pittsburgh—got together on Saturday, October 21, for a reunion at Homecoming. KATHERINE BELLEVILLE IRWIN of Sewickley, FLORENCE SAVAGE WENTWORTH of Forest Hills, ELEANOR LAW DOUGLAS and CARMEN LEOPOLD KING of Pittsburgh met at M. M. at noon, looked over the familiar spots on the Campus, talked over old times, and then went to the King Edward for luncheon. Several of the girls brought photographs of their families as we had not seen each other for years.

The M. M. Class of '18 was entertained at the home of HELEN SENN CROUSE the evening of October 3. We were especially pleased to have two classmates whom most of us had not seen for some time with us, Agnes Kaiser and Emily Nicholson Weil. After a delightful evening during which delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, we disbanded. The M. M. 15th reunion was not as successful as we had hoped, that is, in the number of girls who came back, but we did have a very delightful luncheon at the Hotel Schenley with four out-of-town girls present and ten city girls. DESMONDA GUENTHER SEGER had motored over from Jamestown, N. Y. She has two children, a son and a daughter. MABEL GIBSON from Latrobe was with us. Mabel teaches Household Economics at Latrobe. EDICE REIDER KNOX motored over from New Castle for the luncheon and the game. MARIE FREDETTE SHEA motored up from Memphis, Tennessee, with her husband. Marie visited her brother, Dr. John Fredette of Pittsburgh, for a few days following the reunion, so those of us living in the city had a chance to visit with her. She is as charming as ever, and has a son and a daughter. Those of us who were able to be away from our duties attended the luncheon and the tea given by Dean Green and enjoyed both of these very much, as well as our visit through Margaret Morrison and over the Campus. There are few familiar faces among the faculty which makes us appreciate all the more Mrs. Philput's presence. Seeing her in her same office seems like old times. You will all be very sorry to learn that Miss Moore, who so kindly mothered us all, is very sick at her home on Woodlawn Avenue.

EMILY NICHOLSON WEIL'S, M, address is 427 Holland Ave., Braddock, Pa.

LUCILLE WAKEFIELD, M, represented the Carnegie Institute of Technology at the inauguration of Dr. Franc L. McCluer as president of Westminster College, at Fulton, Mo.

1922

HELEN LEWIS CHANDLER, M, took an M.A. in English at the June Commencement of the University of Pittsburgh. She spent the summer in Durham, N. C., where her husband is doing graduate work in Zoology at Duke University. Enroute home she visited MARION LAYTON, M, who is teaching Household Economics in Parkersburg, W. Va. Marion's address is 1905 Avery St. The J. M. MURDOCHS (MARION LEWIS, M) took a California vacation last summer.

1924

We "clipped" this one from the radio news column of the Pittsburgh Press:

"JOSEPHINE GIBSON, who broadcasts over NBC from Pittsburgh's great food factory, said the other day: 'Our home economics department is at the service of our audience.' The next day she received this letter:

'Dear Lady—My wife she went away for six weeks and I have nobody to pick six bushels of tomatoes. When can you come out?'

Couldn't fool Miss Gibson when it comes to picking tomatoes, so she wrote her petitioner that she couldn't come out, but she did give him one grand recipe for pickling tomatoes."

1926

MARY M. FULTON, M, received her M.S. degree in Nutrition from Columbia University last June and is now a dietitian interne at the Fifth Avenue Hospital, New York City.

1927

The Alumni Office was happy to receive a card the other day announcing the opening of an office by DR. FLORENCE GORDON, M, for the general practice of medicine, at 737 Braddock Avenue, Braddock, Pa. After completing the course in medicine at the University of Pittsburgh, Florence served her internship at the Braddock Hospital. We wish her much success in her new profession.

1928

LEAH MILKMAN, M, has returned to Pittsburgh

from Cleveland, and is now director of the Group Work Division of the Federation of Social Agencies in Pittsburgh. She is living at 1405 Severn Street.

1930

EDNA MAE ARONS CHARLSON, (Mrs. Samuel) M, is a supervisor for the Family Welfare Association at Clairton, Pa.

1932

ELIZABETH LORENZETTI, M, is with the Burrell Instrument Company, Pittsburgh.

ELIZABETH BLISS, M, is doing secretarial work at the University of Pittsburgh.

1933

MARY TOWNSEND, M, left Pittsburgh early in October to take a position as Girls' Worker at the Friendly Inn, 3754 Woodland Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

FLORENCE DAVIDSON, M, is connected with the Jewish Community Center at Buffalo, N. Y.

HELEN ELDER, M, is with the Children's Service Bureau of Pittsburgh.
