Dear Senator Heinz:

We appreciate your request for a donation from Intel in support of your program.

As you can appreciate, we, like many other corporations, receive numerous requests from all types of institutions each year soliciting contributions, and we cannot always fulfill all of these requests. I must disappoint you by saying that Intel will not be able to make a donation at this time. Our ability to give, versus the number of requests made of us each year, is quite limited.

However, we do wish you the best success in your efforts and the continuance of your excellent program.

Very truly yours,

INTEL CORPORATION
