NEW REPRESENTATIVE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL SET-UP IN PALESTINE ATTACKED!

CURRENT COMMENTS

By Dr. Asher Isaacs

FOUR IS JUST ONE LESS THAN five. Yet the quadruplets of St. John in New Brunswick have not brought prosperity to themselves or their parents. Born twelve years ago, they have been supported by their father, a carpenter. Now facing eviction and loss of their meagre furnishings, word of their plight reached the Jewish David Croll—the Minister of Welfare for Ontario and guardian of the quintuplets. Together with Dr. Dafee and Judge Valin, he has sent money from his own pocket to help them. A collection is being made and the quadruplets—three girls and a boy—may at last bring modest comfort to their parents.

SO THE PROHIBITION MOVEMENT has reached Palestine. Prohibition will never be needed there as long as the Jew is pious enough to say a blessing before he drinks and a prayer after he drinks. A good Jew cannot become too intoxicated to recite the brief but appropriate prayer of thankfulness.

IF GENERAL CHARLES H. SHERRILL of Olympic Game infamy is not being misquoted, he lays himself open to a trial by court-martial. Said the General to the Italian Chamber of Commerce in New York, "I wish . . . he'd (Mussolini) come over here and have a chance to do the same thing." So now Sherrill is a fascist welcoming the scrapping of constitutional government in the United States. Sherrill will bear watching. He hasn't acted intelligently since he came back from his visit to Hitler.

CAPTAIN ANTHONY EDEN'S influence on European affairs speaks not so much products of the Garden of Eden as it does Pandora's box of worries and troubles. Why can England alone produce the Edens and the Lawrences?

THE SOVIET BRAIN INSTITUTE is cutting up again. This time the brain of Lenin is being sliced into thousands of slices for purposes of analysis. Was it the Lenin brain that gave us Bolshevism or was it the accumulation of hundreds of circumstances such as czarism, German defeatist propaganda, and other circumstances that Cyrus Adler has so ably pointed out?

WORD COMES OF THE EXISTENCE of a small Chinese village of Jews, a remnant of a group pursued by the Caliph Othman thirteen hundred years ago. They have carried on in the one locality since the end of the eleventh century—with their rabbis and their traditions.

AT LAST ALL OF MT. CARMEL and its surroundings are entirely Jewish—obtained peacefully through purchase. May a new Elijah win a new victory for right thinking from its slopes as Elijah of old won over the pagan beliefs of Jezebel's priests. "I have been left a prophet of the Lord by myself alone; but the prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty men." A minority of righteousness will eventually succeed.

'HORRORS' SHE SAYS OF HITLER

Special to The Outlook.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—"I feel I ought to share in this important work that other women are doing. I am here to do my bit in horror that any American Jewish firm should sell German Goods."

And with these words, Mrs. Stephen S. Wise, 60 odd years of age, wife of the militant religious leader, Rabbi Wise, this week stepped out on the picket line for the first time in her life to express her "horror" a toy firm headed by a Jew has been selling large quantities of German goods.

Mrs. Wise marched back and forth for an hour in front of the B. Shackman large showroom at 34th Street and Fifth Avenue, bearing up proudly under a sandwich sign which asked the public not to buy from Hitler.

While Mrs. Wise was attracting an interested crowd, Mont Shackman, president of the firm, answering reporters' questions in his office, was admitting his Jewish descent, deploring the boycott and declaring he only sells 30 per cent German goods whereas before the boycott the proportion was 90 per cent.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The Nazi theory of race purity was scored as contrary to history and anthropology by President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, in his annual report.

Referring to the race doctrine preached "in at least one modern land," Dr. Butler summed up the race theory in the words of H. A. L. Fisher, historian:

"Purity of race does not exist; Europe is a continent of energetic mongrels and declared original race groups have become so completely intermingled the term 'race' has 'very little meaning.'"

MEASURE CAUSING FURORE!

JERUSALEM, Dec. 26. (JTA)—Overriding united opposition of world and Palestine Jewry, the Palestine Government has proclaimed a representative legislative council for Palestine.

The official communique, issued on the heels of a meeting between Jewish leaders and High Commissioner Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope in which the former gave an emphatic "no" as their answer to the council proposal, has created threats and rumors on all sides.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Organization, has asserted the council was not in accordance with the international obligations to Jews inherent in the spirit of the League mandate, and claimed the Jewish community would ignore the new set-up.

Anticipating boycotts against the council, Britain has empowered the High Commissioner to nominate any person he chooses to represent communities not participating.

The council will comprise seven Jews, five Government officials, three Arab Christians, eleven Moslems and two merchants, one of whom it is believed will be a Jew.

Under Dr. Weizmann's leadership, world Jewry is already mobilizing against the Council.

CLAIM OF COMMUNISM IS BLASTED!

THE charge of a so-called Jewish Communist link made by Adolf Hitler, Chancellor of Germany, at the recent Nuremberg Reichstag meeting which deprived the German Jews of their citizenship, has been repudiated in a declaration to their fellow citizens issued by Dr. Cyrus Adler, president of the American Jewish Committee; Alfred M. Cohen, President of B'nai B'rith, and B. C. Vlodek, chairman of the Jewish Labor Committee.

The complete text of the statement reads as follows:

To Our Fellow Citizens:

On Sunday, September 15, the present National Socialist Government of Germany, at the behest of its Chancellor, Adolf Hitler, dictator of the German people, decreed a series of laws that put Jews beyond the legal and social pale of the German people, and deprived them of claims to German citizenship. This debasement of the Jews in Germany was not the result of a sudden decision. Long prepared for and premeditated, pledged by the National Socialist Party at its foundation, these laws were only the official culmination of a series of measures degrading and oppressing German Jews.

Not Based on Fact

This official denial of civil rights is directed against men and women whose ancestors have lived in Germany for over a thousand years; who have made signal contributions to German economic, political and cultural life; who have shed their blood in defense of their fatherland, and who have contributed their best talents to the peaceful development of the German state. This injustice was perpetrated under the cloak of a so-called link between Jews and Communism, which has no existence in fact, but which is being used to confuse the minds not only of Germans, but of people all over the world.

When the Jews of the United States first learned of these pretenses for persecution, they deemed it beneath their dignity to take notice of them. However, because of the censorship of free expression in Germany and the enormous propaganda carried on by Nazi Germany outside its borders, the time has come for us to make answer to the libels and unjust insinuations, and to make clear that these falsehoods have the same motive that has always inspired tyrants and despots—that of seeking a scapegoat for their own sins and, under cover of a false issue, of deceiving their people by fomenting suspicion, discord and hatred.

It is high time that these facts be known:

While Communism, having its roots in economic forces, no doubt influences some Jews as well as some non-Jews, a study of German conditions indicates that the majority of the Jews who were permitted to vote in Germany during the Republic were affiliated with the liberal democratic parties. In the presidential elections in which Hindenburg, Hitler and Thaelmann were candidates, Jewish leaders appealed to the German Jews to vote for Hindenburg and against the Communist and National Socialist candidates. German Jews were chiefly engaged in occupations and in callings from which Communists are not recruited; indeed, after their own economic interests made them diametrically opposed to Communism. The most influential German dailies in the pre-Hitler period, such as the Frankfurter Zeitung and the Berliner Tageblatt, which were owned by Jews, were bitterly opposed to Communism. Not one prominent or even well-known German-Jewish leader was ever identified with the Communist party in Germany. According to authentic figures given under the auspices of the present government, there was only one Jew among the 70 Communist deputies in the Reichstag of 1930, and not a single Jew among the 81 Communist deputies of the Reichstag of 1933. Finally, not even the most brazen official mendacity can obscure the fact that while there were less than 300,000 German Jews who were enabled to vote, there were fully 6,000,000 Communist votes cast during the Republic.

Illuminations

The facts about Soviet Russia and the Jews are equally illuminating. Among the thirty-six commissars who constitute the Soviet Government, only two are Jews. Neither the president of the Council of Commissars, Ryckoff; the president of the U. S. S. R., Kalinin; the general secretary of the Communist party, Stalin; the president of the Third International, Dimitroff; nor the founder of the Communist party, Lenin, are Jews. A large percentage of the millions of Jews in Russia before the Revolution were trades people, members of the class whom the Bolsheviks attacked most violently and who had most to lose by the victory of Communism. Indeed, after the Revolution the Soviet Government declared fully half of the total Jewish population in Russia as declassés, as hindrances to the development of the Revolution. Jewish workers in Russia were organized in an association called the Bund, which opposed the Bolsheviks until the very last. Orthodox Jews and Zionists, whose numbers were preponderant in Russia, are regarded as counter-revolutionaries by the Soviet Government.

An examination of the lists deliberately circulated by anti-Semitic agents in attempts to establish their thesis that nearly all of the Bolshevik leaders are Jews reveals that a large number of those classified are not Jews at all, and that a number of others, far from being Bolsheviks, were leaders of the anti-Bolshevik movement. While Trotzky was a Jew, many of the leaders of the Mensheviks, the sworn foes of Bolshevism, were Jews. The official statistics of the Petrograd Communist party in 1918 shortly after the Revolution showed that there were 124,021 members of whom 74.3% were Russians, 10.5% Latvians, 6.3% Poles, 3.7% Estonians, 2.6% Lithuanians, and 2.6% Jews.

No Evidence

It is plain from the above how little evidence there is for the malicious charge of a so-called Jewish-Communist link. If the Jews are to be condemned because there are some Communists among them—men who have never in the slightest degree concerned themselves with Judaism—then there is not a people on earth that might not with equal right be condemned.

Those who have even an elementary acquaintance with the traditions cherished by our people during the two thousand years since the destruction of the Jewish state, know that complete and unequivocal loyalty to the country of one's citizenship in a basic principle of Jewish life. Ever since the Babylonian exile, spiritual leaders from Jeremiah down have adjured the Jewish people to seek the peace and prosperity of the land in which they live, to pray unto the Lord for it; for in the peace thereof they would enjoy peace.

Students of the origin of the American form of government have pointed to the debt which the Colonial fathers owed to the inspiration of the Hebrew Bible. Lecky, the distinguished historian, expressed this debt in the famous dictum: "Hebraic mortar cemented the foundation of American democracy." To millions of American Jews as well as to millions of Jews in other lands, therefore, the tenets of liberalism and democracy are the most dearly prized ideals. Jewish emancipation has always gone hand in hand with the progress of democracy. Any form of

We Thank You Again

WHAT we thought was our own private cause for celebration, namely our first birthday, really proved to be a community celebration. Literally hundreds of letters and phone calls, too numerous to count during the past week, have poured into this office. While we are answering the letters of good wishes as rapidly as we can, we wish also to issue a blanket WE THANK YOU to all who have given us words of congratulation and encouragement to go forward with THE OUTLOOK during the coming year towards even greater heights. THE OUTLOOK is your paper and will develop as rapidly as you help to develop it. We have scores of plans for its improvement during the coming year which will be noticeable in almost every issue. Look for them and tell your friends to read THE OUTLOOK.

Welcome Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity!

PITTSBURGH is proud to be the host this week to the convention of the Phi Epsilon Pi Fraternity. This Jewish fraternity of college men has accepted the challenge of the times—a challenge which faces all young men, particularly young Jewish men. Its determination to give an award to the chapter which has been most conscious of Jewish responsibility is no less significant than its decision to award a prize to the outstanding American Jew each year. This practice is similar to that inaugurated some years ago by Zeta Beta Tau and by Sigma Alpha Mu this year.

More and more we must draw our future leaders from the ranks of the college-trained men and women. The enthusiasm of Phi Epsilon Pi augurs well.

The Sacrifices That Women Make

HEADLINES tell us that four million Italian women have surrendered their wedding rings to the melting pot in order to increase the gold reserve of their country. What beautiful sentiment!

But is it beautiful sentiment to destroy a wedding ring so that more bullets can be purchased so that more human beings can be killed? Was the Queen of Italy doing the right thing when she cast her ring which she had worn for thirty-nine years aside? Or was she merely the victim of fascist regimentation along with millions of her sisters? Casting swords into plowshares is the way to progress; but melting wedding rings into bullets is retrogression towards barbarism. We have often noted on the toil-worn hands of Italian and Sicilian women the broad gold wedding band—the one connection that suggests that these poor souls ever were young or romantic. And now even this is gone.

In Nazi-ridden Germany, the women are also making sacrifices. In an age of enlightenment, when even in Turkey the women have won a degree of freedom, German women have been forced into the KKK—Kirche, Kuche, und Kinder. That is, women must confine themselves to church, kitchens, and child-bearing. Their church is pagan; their kitchens lack butter, milk, cheese, and other basic foods; their children are consigned to slaughter. Like guinea pigs in a cage, they multiply at the will of an experimenter; they eat what is allowed them; they die. In the past year the birth rate increased over 22% while in Ireland, Norway, Sweden, Poland, and the Union of South Africa there was no increase whatsoever; and in twenty other countries, there is an actual decrease. In fascist Italy, the supply of cannon-fodder increases too.

In Germany the law says, "No German woman,

Two weeks ago THE OUTLOOK published a special article by Rabbi Benjamin Friedman, of Syracuse, New York, who declared a Jewish War Veterans' Organization is not needed in this country.

His comments aroused so much controversy that we are pleased today to publish this reply by Mr. Schaffer, a resident of Pittsburgh, National Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief of all Jewish War Veterans in the United States.

The columns of THE OUTLOOK are always open for free discussion and we invite further comments from our readers on this or any other controversial topic.

WE NEED a Jewish War Veteran Organization because no other organization is so well qualified to fight the battle of the Jew.

Admitting that existing veteran organizations impose no restrictions upon membership, we contend there is a need for an organization such as ours.

Combat Anti-Semitism

Whereas other veteran organizations' aims and purposes are to uphold the Constitution of the United States, and to work for the best interests of the veteran, the Jewish War Veterans, not only include the above aims, but also have the distinct object and purpose of combatting anti-Semitism and bigotry, and upholding the fair name of the Jew, wherever and whenever unjustly assailed.

It is unreasonable to expect veteran groups such as the American Legion, V.F.W. and the Spanish War Vets, to single out the Jew and fight his battle. That is the distinct job of the Jewish War Veterans.

No Competition

We are not in competition with the other veteran groups. On the other hand, they welwhether young or old, and no German girl of today has the right to consider herself a private person who can do with herself and her health what she pleases." They cannot even choose the clothing they would wear but are at the mercy of the German Institute of Modes. All of this is not new, of course. Ancient Sparta had the same laws. The Spartan government controlled marriage of which she made "a political and legal institution for the procreation of future citizens." Marriage was compulsory. Unmarried men were placed under political and economic difficulties and were made the butt of obscene jokes. Love did not enter marriage. "Marriage had nothing to do with personal happiness nor enrichment of personality. It was arranged solely with regard to the prospective physical and mental power of the expected offspring." Large families were encouraged and "fruitfulness was a matter of more consequence than was the legitimacy of the offspring" (Reuter's Population Problems).

Regimented Sparta fell before liberty-loving Athens. Russian women have been called upon to sacrifice much according to American standards. Field and factory work embodying hard physical labor have accompanied a realignment of religious belief and marriage relationship.

Jewish women, too, have sacrificed their rings and ornaments on occasion. During the wanderings of the Children of Israel in the wilderness, it was the "bracelets, and ear-rings, and finger-rings, and tablets, all kinds of ornaments of gold" which the women brought that helped to build the house of prayer. In Poland and Russia, it was the Jewish woman who earned the living for the family in many cases. But the sacrifices of the Jewish women were never for the sake of spawning troops for a future military campaign or the strengthening of a race-hatred program. They have been for religious survival and for the support of those learned in the Law of Israel.

Sacrifices are never pleasant. But when they arise for the sake of a peaceful ideal, they ennoble those who suffer. When they are undertaken for purposes of murder and hatred, they degrade the women who take part.

From The Sermons of Rabbi J. Leonard Levy

The thoughts of the righteous man are for justice. We must remember that, in the ultimate, justice is the great social virtue for which we, as Jews, must plead. As members of the House of Israel, we have been called to be witnesses for justice, to work for every improving moral and economic condition until justice is established among men. Our opinions of justice may differ; our views of economics may vary according to our different dispositions; yet no man, in whom is a particle of moral power, but will admit that many modern circumstances can be improved, and that it is our duty as Americans, and more especially as Americans of the Jewish faith, to see that conditions are changed in harmony with the principles of justice.

From "The Purpose of Socialism," sermon delivered February 2, 1913, before Rodef Shalom by the late Dr. Levy. Reprint courtesy Mrs. Levy.

Why A Jewish War Veteran Organization?

An Answer to Rabbi Benjamin Friedman, of Syracuse, New York!

From Harry H. Schaffer
National Senior Vice Commander-in-Chief Jewish War Veterans of the U.S.

tution of the United States, and to work for the best interests of the veteran, the Jewish War Veterans, not only include the above aims, but also have the distinct object and purpose of combatting anti-Semitism and bigotry, and upholding the fair name of the Jew, wherever and whenever unjustly assailed.

It is unreasonable to expect veteran groups such as the American Legion, V.F.W. and the Spanish War Vets, to single out the Jew and fight his battle. That is the distinct job of the Jewish War Veterans.

No Competition

We are not in competition with the other veteran groups. On the other hand, they welcome us with open arms and seek our cooperation in all matters affecting the best interests of the United States, and of these men who fought, bled and gave their all for the principles for which our Republic and Constitution stands.

Were we to organize a Jewish post of the American Legion, as has been done in many cities, the charge of segregation would be well founded, but, as a separate organization with distinct aims, we do not lay ourselves open to any such charge.

Once having joined our organization, we advocate that our comrades should also join the V.F.W., American Legion, or other veteran groups to which they may be eligible, thus cementing the relationship between these organizations and ourselves.

Mr. B. J. Mundel, of 100 West Main Street, Uniontown, Pa., sends us the following:

Just bought this little book from a Blind Man. The book entitled, "The Shoe that Pinches," is published by one Everett Fox, 1844 Tilden Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio, and sells for ten cents.

It contains thirteen serious charges against the way in which persons who are not blind, draw large salaries or in other ways take advantage of the blind, charging that "within the United States there is (sic) thousands of persons with sight living off the contributions given by the sighted for the benefit of the blind." Another part of the work suggests that it is not very pleasant to stand on the streets and beg, especially when agencies for the blind have taught the public to rebuff such pleas with propaganda that some blind beggars have large bank accounts, and so on.

(Mr. Mundel: The author offers no proof of his charges, talks about conditions all over the country without specific references to indict any one agency. We are turning the pamphlet over to an authority whose word we respect for comment.)

American Jewish Outlook
Pittsburgh, Pa.
Dear Sirs:

I am a constant reader of your paper. I don't often get the desire to write, but the other night as I tried to figure out when I had Yahrzeit, the following lines came to my mind. It may touch the spot with some people . . .

"CANDLES"
To you, Chanukah means joy and gladness;
To me, Chanukah means tears and sadness.

To you, Chanukah, on the first night
Brings the orange candles with their radiant light.
To me, Chanukah, on the first night
Brings a white candle, for Mother's Yahrzeit.

I beg of you all who yet have your mothers,
Go to her for Chanukah, spare all others.
Share with her your Chanukah joy,
Caress her now as you did when a boy.

There are eight candles, eight nights of bliss,
And you'll soon realize what I miss.
As you sit by the Chanukah candles bright,
And I by the candle for Mother's Yahrzeit.

Uncover Ancient Ossuaries!

By M. L. Avner

Nineteenth of a new series by Mr. Avner, authority on Palestine, appearing exclusively in THE OUTLOOK.

OSSUARIES, dating back to several centuries before the destruction of Palestine and bearing Hebrew inscriptions, have been uncovered recently in a number of caves on a hill and its slopes in the valley of Kedron, outside the old city of Jerusalem, by Dr. Eliezer Sukenik, of the Hebrew University, who has been conducting an exploring expedition of the ancient necropolis of Jerusalem for many years in order to shed light on the burial customs of the children of Israel.

The ossuaries were contained in well kept caves in which there were formed specimens of pottery used as funeral ornaments.

The ossuaries bore Greek and Hebrew Inscriptions naming Martha, the daughter of Annias, Mariam, Salome, Jonathan, Simon and other ancient names referred to in the New Testament. Remarkably well preserved skeletons were uncovered. These discoveries are of great archaeological value and are expected to throw light on the racial problems of the period.

Dr. Sukenik intends to undertake anthropological measurements with special instruments.

Excellent preserved in their original reddish brown pigments, painted more than two thousand years ago, the ossuaries are decorated with rosettes, flowers and geometrical designs. This is the record extraordinary archeological find made this year.

❖ Social Welfare Work In 1935! ❖

Activities Have Been Substantially Maintained During Depression, Often Under Trying Conditions

By Dr. S. C. Kohs
Graduate, School of Jewish Social Work
New York City

IN this brief summary, an attempt will be made to touch only a few highlights of Jewish social welfare work during the past year. It should be emphasized that much has failed of mention because of the limited confines of this summary. Generalizing, however, one may state that although American Jewry has not as yet returned to its standard of giving which characterized the period from 1924 to 1928, the various social welfare activities have been substantially maintained during these depression years under very severe and trying operating conditions. There is great need for Jews to increase the total of their philanthropic contributions in order not to break down the instrumentalities for Jewish self-help and for the continued maintenance of organizations which our people and the government expect us to support and keep alive

SOCIAL SERVICES

Family Relief

Since the depression, every year has seen larger and larger demands made upon Jewish family welfare and relief societies for care and services by needy clients. This past year has shown the first tendency toward a decline. But in spite of this reduction in demand the actual need for relief funds and for social services still exceed those of the years 1927, 1928, 1929 or 1930. Jewish agencies are straining every effort to meet their obligations under the pressure of greatly reduced contributions from Jewish sources. It is hoped that this year's drives for local Jewish philanthropic work will bring forth the necessary increases in giving, to help safeguard the work which Jewish relief organizations have so carefully and successfully nurtured throughout these depression years.

Child Care

During the past year about 10,000 Jewish children were under the care of some 30 Jewish child care agencies doing work of an acceptable character. This number is larger than in the years 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930 or 1931. The trend is away from institutionalization, with a greater tendency toward care in private or foster-home. Expenditures for the care of these children, likewise have increased above the amounts required in the pre-depression years. Jewish contributions for this work has lagged, but by the use of reserves, reductions in salaries and operating costs and in other ways, the emergency to date has been bridged. But increased contributions to Federations, Welfare Funds and individual agency appeals must be made in order to make possible a continuation of present child-care services on the decent level that they should be carried.

Medical Care

The 37 reporting hospitals under Jewish auspices record almost three million days' care provided during the past year. This represents an increase of over 5 percent over the preceding year. This increase was paralleled by increased demands for bed utilization. About 10 percent more people applied for medical care than the year before. It is interesting to note that only one hospital of the 37 reported 100 percent Jewish clientele. About half of the hospitals have a non-Jewish clientele varying from 50 to over 75 percent.

Dispensary services have shown similar consistent increases year after year throughout the years of the depression. Some 40 dispensaries, clinics and out-patient departments report close to 2,500,000 visits for medical care and service. Not a single one of these clinics serves a 100 percent Jewish clientele. About half of them give care and service to 50 percent or more non-Jewish needy.

Care of the Aged

About 4,500 aged were cared for in about 30 reporting Homes for the Aged. This is a larger number than has been under care in any of the past seven or eight years, and represents about 20 to 25 percent more than were cared for in 1927 or 1928, the pre-depression period. This increased responsibility of the Jewish agencies caring for our dependent aged places a further responsibility on American Jewry to meet its philanthropic obligations this coming year on much more adequate and satisfactory basis than before.

Government Aid

Although the government's interest in social welfare has greatly lessened sectarian responsibilities it should be remarked that actually the load of responsibility and work that we, as Jews and social workers, must carry is no less now than it was before 1929. The government needs the continued support of private welfare agencies in order that its own program may develop and continue on a sound and desirable basis. The coming year should see a renewed dedication of American Jewry to support and continue the social service work which they have developed in this country during the past hundred years.

Social Workers

The past seven years have witnessed Jewish social work passing through a very trying and strenuous period which has taxed the intelligence, resourcefulness and devotion of hundreds of professional Jewish social workers. They deserve great credit for having carried forward so successfully under the burden of increased work, extremely trying conditions, reduced salaries and other insecurities. Jewish communities should recognize this contribution of the professional social workers and meet their responsibilities toward this group cooperatively and understandingly.

CENTERS FIELD

Challenged by the need for up-building and making Jewish life more significant and meaningful, the Jewish Welfare Board and its more than three hundred associated local Jewish Centers in the United States and Canada have set for themselves the tasks of developing better functioning types of community organizations than generally operate at the present moment and of helping Jewish youth toward a better understanding of and a more effective participation in meeting present-day Jewish problems.

On the whole, the Center movement has shown, during the past year, capacity for adaptation to present day needs, helpfulness on civic, governmental and local Jewish enterprises and substantial health in carrying forward its large and varied programs.

EDUCATION FIELD

Perhaps the one field which has been most niggardly treated during these depression years has been the Jewish education field. Among the first to suffer reductions in income it has yet a long way to go to recover its financial status of the pre-depression period. However, the professional and lay leaders in this field have been doing heroic service to carry on and maintain the activities so vital to the preparation of an educated and understanding Jewry here in America. There were some signs during the past year of an awakening, in scattered sections of this country, toward the seriousness of the existing situation and of the need for a more practical and helpful concern with the problems facing the program of Jewish education in the United States.

WELFARE CONFERENCES

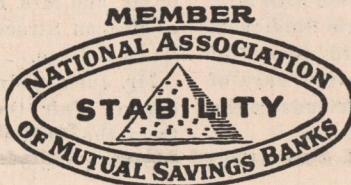

Two major conferences were held during the past year. The Conference on Jewish Welfare in January and the National Conference of Jewish Social Service in June. At the former, which assembled 461 delegates from 64 cities throughout the United States, the relation of Jewish communal effort to the welfare and needs of Jews throughout the world was discussed in the different sessions. Such topics as the following were covered: The position of the Federation in the total field of Jewish welfare, public welfare and social insurance, current Jewish cultural needs and activities, the place of the synagogue in Jewish life today, American aid to over-seas communities and movements, and general problems affecting Jewish adjustment and integration into American life. The National Conference of Jewish Social Service, calling together a greater proportion of the professional people in social service, made the theme of this year's Conference "Economic Adjustment Problems of American Jewry."

Children's Corner

THE SABBATH STORY HOUR

By Theresa Loeb Cerf

I'M SURE I wouldn't have to ask many of you if you are having a nice vacation. What a grand and glorious time of year for parties, sled riding, and shopping with mother, which is such a treat. This year as last, Bobby and Joan have had the pleasure of a visitor, no other than their beloved little cousin Richard, or Dick for short. Dick is ten years old, and the children have such a good time when he comes for a visit, which isn't so often, because he lives on a farm down in Georgia. Dick doesn't see much snow where he lives, so the children hope each year that Mr. Weatherman will bless them with it.

This particular Friday, the day has dawned bright, clear and cold. Mr. Snowman has left an extra supply, fortunate enough because there had been grave fears on the part of the children last night that the snow may be melted by morning. Joan, Bobby, and Dick jumped with joy at the sight they beheld out of doors and immediately decided to spend most of the day sled riding.

It is four o'clock now, and the children have just entered the house overflowing with pep and vitality, their cheeks rosy and their eyes bright. They go immediately to the kitchen to ask Mother Alice for something good to eat.

"Well, children," says Mother, giving each of them a kiss, "I know how empty those tummies must be after all that exercise. I do hate for you to spoil your appetites because we are going to have such a nice Sabbath dinner. Here are a few extra Chollahs I made though, and perhaps you would enjoy them with butter and jelly." The children need no second suggestion and group themselves around the table.

"You know, mother," says Joan, her mouth very full of bread and jelly, "while we were sled riding we made some New Year's Resolutions. We always hear you and Father say what you're going to do for the New Year so we thought we would too. I suggested these resolutions, see how they sound to you, mother. "Get up the first time I'm called in the morning; never say 'won't' when I'm asked to do something, be careful not to tease Bobby, and be helpful to all my friends."

"Well, that sounds splendid," says Mother, "resolutions like that can't help but prove useful. Bobby, let's hear what you have to say."

"Oh," answers Bobby, "I thought of so many I didn't know which to decide upon. Here are the most important. 'Be careful to stay out of fights in school, and be especially careful not to start them. Not be selfish with my bicycle, let my friends enjoy it, too; keep my eyes on my own paper as my teacher says, wash my hands before eating, and not forget to wear rubbers when it rains.' Whew, isn't that a lot to remember!"

"Yes son," answers mother, "but with just a little perseverance and patience it should not be difficult. We'll listen to Dick's resolutions at dinner time as I'm sure he has some, too, but now children, go upstairs and change your clothes, and get ready for dinner."

THE Sports World

By Morris Weiner

Contrary to Rudyard Kipling's famous ballad, the East will meet the West on New Year's day in San Francisco at the annual Shriner's classic in what looms as one of the most important intersectional football games of the year.

Jewish grid stars will play for both teams. Abe Shper, selected by this department on the first Jewish all-American eleven will start at his regular post of tackle. Shper, one of the outstanding men on the Pacific Coast, hails from Washington University.

Sam Stawisky, another sensational lineman from the University of California at Los Angeles, overlooked by many this year, will also play on the Western eleven.

The East, on the other hand, will be minus the services of one man of whom Andy Kerr, coach of the Eastern contingent, thought highly. Referring to Dave Smukler, whom he had chosen for the trip, Kerr said, "That kid is a marvel on the field. I've never seen anything like him." Dave will not be able to make the trip inasmuch as his injured knee has not responded to treatment as had been expected.

Other Jewish footballers from the East who Kerr has tentatively slated to make the Western invasion are Nat Machlowitz, quarterback, New York University; Barney Mintz, Tullane and Irwin Klein, also of the Violet institution. The latter, however, may refuse to go, in order to play with the basketball team.

The N.Y.U. quintet, on which Klein is an exceptional forward, got off to a flying start last week by soundly trouncing the five from the University of California.

"Butcher boy" Phil Weintraub, utility outfielder and first baseman for the New York Giants, who has been handed his walking papers by Manager Bill Terry, is a puzzle. Phil, claims the pilot of the Giants,

PURCHASING AGENTS TO HEAR DE LOSS WALKER

Pittsburghers who hear De Loss Walker, associate editor of "Liberty," talk on "What's Behind the News Today," at the William Penn Hotel, Friday evening, January 3, will receive a real treat, according to R. W. Mackensen, who is chairman of the committee arranging for his appearance at the Pittsburgh Purchasing Agents' annual Executive Night.

Known as the "Billy Sunday of Business," De Loss Walker will bring a message that has already been acclaimed nationally by press, public, Democrats, Republicans, labor, business, women's groups, and educators. So popular have his appearances become that towns have even closed down their schools for the day when he appeared; stores have been shut so that employees might hear him; and State Legislatures have held special joint sessions to receive his talk.

A director of the National Recovery Crusade, De Loss Walker is waging a campaign to "declare war on fear." Members of the Purchasing Agents' Association will welcome their guest speaker and introduce him thoroughly to this city. Special efforts are being made to make the special meeting outstanding.

CHILDREN SHOULD HAVE IRRADIATED MILK DAILY

Build your diet around milk!

The newest development in the milk industry is the Steenbock Irradiation process which enriches milk with Vitamin D, the vitamin so important to proper calcification of bones and teeth—so necessary especially to tiny tots and growing children and expectant and nursing mothers.

Children should have a quart of this Irradiated Vitamin D milk every day and adults a pint at least, and it is very easy to have it delivered promptly to any part of Greater Pittsburgh by the Menzie Dairy Co. by phoning HOMestead 1102...which is NOT a toll call.

FRITZIE'S COLUMN

"MAY we never lose the benefits of the blessings in our possession, by hunting after those which are out of our reach." It is within the reach of every one to have some type of New Year Celebration. There are so very many ways of holding New Year parties. There is the "White Elephant" party, the "Father Time" party, the "Block Neighborhood" party, the "Apartment" party. "A happy New Year to all," is the cry of every American, when the national, official New Year is celebrated January first. In 1936 everybody should be sincere in this expression if he would be a part to a jolly good New Year's party; he should take the pledge to be sincere in his greeting. Fritzie has many suggestions for the Pledge Game and other recreation suggestions for the New Year Party.

Fritzie plans breakfasts, luncheons, teas, bridges, twilight musicals, suppers, progressive dinners and opportunity bridges. Place cards, prizes, menu, souvenirs; all will be appropriate, original and in strictest keeping with the guest of honor, the season of the year, the budget of the host and the atmosphere will be alluring. Fritzie's affairs are different, she always features that distinct type of party that is bound to appeal to the host, hostess and guests. Fritzie tells one where to party shop and get the very best values. She plans affairs that are unique, original and fascinating; she weaves ideas into the fun-making that are unusual, so that the party must be a success.

Fritzie's initialed or monogrammed playing cards, bridge pads, and suede bridge covers are inexpensive and of an excellent quality.

FROZEN FACED "PAN!" That's Ish Kabibble!

By Barnetta Davis

M. R. M. A. BOGUE, better known as Ish Kabibble, to guests in the Hotel William Penn's Chatterbox, is the envy of all fair damsels due to his perfect set of bangs!

This coiffure is a streamline combination of an 1888 hairdress and a seventeenth century fringe—and the barbers are going crazy, but what does he care!

He's getting paid for it. Well, so are the barbers...But haircuts are only a fraction of his salary.

Ish Kabibble, who vocalizes with Kay Kayser's band, is, surprisingly, an accomplished musician besides being an excellent comedian. His inimitable characterization of a country fender toward women is so innocently presented that Mr. Bogue hardly knows how he does it himself. He has aimed at the point where he feels he is really a "hum-dinger."

Hal Kemp once refused Ish Kabibble's services, but Kayser picked him up. This made Kabibble very happy. That's why he says "Oh, you kid!"

Bogue gets his lofty thoughts from sleeping on the Roosevelt Hotel roof. Pittsburgh air puts him in his daily fog for professional services, executed nightly at the William Penn.

Nevertheless, Kayser is to a great extent responsible for the success of "Kabibble." It was through his foresight and friendly criticism that this distinct personality was brought to Pittsburgh.

Getting back to Ish Kabibble, the poet laureate—allow me to repeat his famous masterpiece toward which he has devoted the best years of his life...as follows:

"Roses are red
Violets are blue
If you think this'll rhyme
You're crazy!"

Even Rubinoff's Personal Fiddle Gets 'Stand-in'

By Helen Zigmund
Outlook Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 26.—You can get Joe Schenck, the big movie man up any time of the night—if you whisper "pinochle!"

Rubinoff discloses the reason why a stand-in was necessary for his Stradivarius while making "Thanks a Million." The company which insures the instrument feared it would be damaged under the powerful kliegs and so demanded a part-time substitute.

Harpo received an invitation from Otto Klemperer to be guest soloist with the New York Philharmonic orchestra. He was struck speechless and abandoned his chase after two frantic blondes.

On the dotted line: "Street Singer" Arthur Tracy is in London playing his own life role in "Street Singer's Serenade"...Lillian Hellman has a clause in her screen contract which forbids her to fly...Miss Shaindel Kalish, 19, has been contracted for the films...another cinematicite for us?

Arthur Caesar, en route to London, stopped off to see Mama in New York. On arriving he dived into his valise and proudly presented her with the gold statuette, his Motion Picture Academy award for original writing. Mama studied it a little puzzled, then commented. "H'm, only one?" "All right," agreed Arthur, "it's only one. So let Irving go out and win another one to match!"

Sam Hellman, the writer, began his career editing an auto club magazine in Missouri back in 1920. In his spare time he wrote a baseball story, but never sent it out. It got thrown around, then was mislaid. One day a check came from the Saturday Evening Post for one hundred and twenty-five dollars. A pal had slipped the story out of the desk and sent it to the magazine. Thereafter Hellman was a constant contributor to the Post and Red Book.

Joe Penner was quite inflated when he was given his own make-up man. Later he discovered that the man was also engaged to henna a horse, so he complained at the head office, "Why should I have a horse specialist assigned to me?"

No temperamental star is more comfortably domiciled than Goo-Goo, Penner's delight...His bungalow, occupying a central position on the lot, is white with blue trimming and has a white picket fence around the front yard. His name-plate decorates the door and a few flaps away is the pond, an old garden fountain. Next door lives Question Mark, his playmate, who refuses to be interviewed. Winchell, take note...they were seen strolling wing in wing the other day.

All gift ducks sent by admirers to Joe Penner are boarded out on a farm in Maryland.

Between You and Me

By Paul A. Peters

It's Just Beginning

TO THOSE defeatists who believe that the fight against America's participation in the Olympics at Berlin is finished, the following: the battle has just begun...A clever plan of strategy has been mapped out and the results are expected to be sad for Mr. Brundage...Contrary to the general impression, Mr. Brundage's accession to the throne of the A.A.U. was secretly welcomed by the anti-Olympic faction...The idea is that now, as A.A.U. president, he's very much on the spot since an actual majority of the A.A.U. proper (that is, without its affiliated bodies) voted against participation...The barrage against Avery has already opened...By the time this is printed, it will be going at full blast...Don't be surprised if a special convention of the A.A.U. is called sometime next month, as the result of the growing demand that Brundage resign...Incidentally, we have it on the best of authority that the behind-the-scenes strategist of the pre-convention anti-Olympics conflict was Harry L. Glucksman, executive director of the Jewish Welfare Board...And we happen to know that Mr. Brundage was the victim of Hitler-hallucinations when he said that one million dollars was spent by the anti-Olympics forces...We'd like to have the difference between that figure and what actually was spent...A good estimate would be about $5,000.

A Swell Idea, Even If It Doesn't Work

A group of "Importants" are quite excited about a plan that has been presented to them for a method of aiding Germany's Jews in a really big way...The plan may be presented to Great Britain, since it involves that nation quite intimately...This is the idea: have Palestine confer citizenship "in absentia" upon as many of Germany's Jews who will signify their intention of emigrating to that country in a specified period of time...The citizenship, even if it is of the "in absentia" variety, will have the full protective force for the German Jews of regular citizenship in a foreign country...There are, of course, many obstacles...Great Britain may not like the idea, since it will commit them more definitely than they may like to be committed...And Germany would almost certainly have objections...Anyway, it's a swell idea...even if it doesn't work.

Mr. Straus voiced resentment at the attacks appearing on the publication's editorial page against Dr. Magnes, Rabbi Jonah Wise, Mr. Vladeck "and even Prof. Sylvain Levy, that great leader of French Jewry, who is not safe from your criticism even in his grave"... "I would most earnestly urge," Mr. Straus, who is chairman of the New York United Palestine Appeal, concluded, "that the columns...be not open to any writers who wish to use The New Palestine to air their own sarcastic and venomous opinions of leaders who may differ with our ideas in detail but who are nevertheless devoting themselves to the service of our people"...Are somebody's ears red?...Why hasn't Rabbi Stephen S. Dear Dr. Isaacs:

I want to add my congratulations to the many others you have received on the occasion of THE OUTLOOK'S first birthday anniversary. The articles, features and editorials published in THE OUTLOOK during its first year of existence merited the success which the publishers have achieved.

I am confident that under your continued editorship, THE OUTLOOK will in time assume national leadership in the field of Anglo-Jewish weeklies.

Best wishes for still greater successes as you go along moulding the policy of your paper.

Sincerely yours,

CROWDER SINGS WITH SYMPHONY THIS SUNDAY

The Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, Antonio Modarelli, conductor, will feature the Berlioz Fantastic Symphony at its concert tomorrow night at the Syria Mosque.

This Symphony has been performed only once since 1909 in Pittsburgh, when Emil Paur conducted.

Much interest is being shown in the first appearance of Louis Crowder as piano soloist with the Orchestra. Mr. Crowder will play the brilliant B-Flat minor concerto of Tchaikowsky.

Symphony officials are requesting patrons not to be late for the first work—the Leonore Overture No. 3—as the concert will begin promptly at 8:30, and the doors will not be opened again until the completion of this overture which takes 15 minutes.

Tickets for the concert are on sale today at Mellor's, 604 Wood Street, and will be on sale tomorrow at the Syria Mosque box-office from 2 o'clock until the time of the concert.

Then war and the disorders which followed it severely shook this belief in progress, till many great minds have come to the pessimistic view that civilization is actually dying down. Looking In At The Y. M. & W. H. A.

The opening major event of the New Year at the "Y" will be the first "Y" Choral program, January 12, when the soloist will be Mme. Sarah Gollstein Gorby, young soprano of considerable reputation on the continent, her first American performance.

The Choral Society, with Dr. Harvey B. Gaul as director, and Lucy Balter, accompanist, will present a completely new program including several compositions by the renowned Hebrew composer, Saminsky, and a premiere performance of "Hymn to the Night," by Marion Genet, Pittsburgh composer.

Sunday evening, January 19, Alexander Brailowsky, known all over the world as one of the greatest pianists of this age, will make his first Pittsburgh appearance after 12 years of absence.

The first lecture of the New Year will take place Tuesday evening, January 7, with Dr. Everett Dean Martin speaking on the subject "What Is an Educated Person?"

Tuesday evening, January 28, Rabbi James G. Heller, of Cincinnati, Ohio, will speak on the subject "The Place of Zionism in the Jewish World Crisis."

The "Y" is the grateful recipient of a large Chanukah Menorah presented by the Sisterhood of B'nai Israel Congregation.

In a letter accompanying the gift, Mrs. I. L. Scheinman, president, said: "We realize the 'Y' is one of the most vital Jewish institutions for the Jewish youth in Pittsburgh. Viewing such importance and desiring to give concrete expression to our feeling of gratitude for its magnificent work, we have decided to present the 'Y' with this gift."

Shapiro Quartet

The Friends of Chamber Music Society will present the Shapiro Quartet in a program this Thursday evening in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association.

Members of the Quartet include Max Shapiro, first violin; William Loesel, second violin; Otto Donati, viola and Joseph Derdujn, cello.

"M" at Art Cinema

Peter Lorre, famous actor, takes the lead part in "M," motion picture banned from Germany, and now showing in the Art Cinema, Liberty Avenue.

Strangely titled and banned because it was made by the exiled German, Fritz Lang, the film is entirely in English.

"WE NEED JEWISH WAR VETS," SAYS SCHAEFFER

Organized in 1896

Organized in 1896 by a group of Jewish War Veterans who had served in the Civil War, and who desired to combat a wave of anti-Semitism, which was at that time sweeping the country, and to dispel unfounded propaganda, later, the Jews who fought in the Spanish-American War, and still later, those who fought in the World War, organized. In 1923 all of these Jewish Veteran organizations met a general convention held in New York City and at the suggestion of Hon. Nathan Strauss, consolidated under the name of the Jewish War veterans of the United States.

It is worthy to note that the six objects of the Jewish Veterans, as written in the constitution, when we were first organized in 1896, are still in effect in our present constitution.

Six Main Objects

1. To maintain true allegiance to the United States of America; to encourage honor and purity in public affairs; to combat whatever tends to impair the efficiency and permanency of our free institutions; and to encourage the doctrine of universal liberty, equal rights and full justice to men.
2. To combat the powers of bigotry and darkness, wherever originating and whatever their target; to uphold the fair name of the Jew and fight his battles wherever unjustly assailed.
3. To inculcate and keep alive the spirit of comradeship among the men of our race who fought in the various wars of the Republic.
4. To assist such comrades and their families as may stand in need of help, encouragement or protection.
5. To gather and preserve the records of patriotic service performed by men of our race.
6. To honor the memory and shield from neglect the graves of our heroic dead.

Reach Average Man

The B'nai B'rith, American Jewish Committee, American Jewish Congress and other Jewish organizations have accomplished a great deal in the fight against anti-Semitism. The Jewish War Veterans, however, representing as they do, 250,000 men who served their country in time of war, are in a far better position to reach the ear of the average man, because we talk to them in a language they understand; namely, patriotism.

The other Jewish organizations have come to realize that they can use the Jewish War Veterans as their front line in the battle against anti-Semitism, and are co-operating with us in every way possible.

Yeoman Service

I believe that the National radio broadcasts under our auspices on every National holiday, with outstanding non-Jews as the chief speakers, have done far more to cement good feeling between Jew and Gentile than any other single factor.

I might also mention that the Jewish War Veterans performed yeoman service in the drive against American participation in Olympic Games to be held in Germany. And lest we forget, the Jewish War Veterans were the first to sponsor the boycott of German goods.

Proof of the need of an organization such as ours lies in the fact that our organization has trebled in the past two years, and we now have one hundred and thirty-five posts located in every section of the United States, extending from Maine to California, and as far south as Atlanta, Georgia.

COHAN OPENS IN "DEAR OLD DARLING" AT NIXON

Returning to his own management in his own play, George M. Cohan, "the American stage actor," will present "Dear Old Darling," comedy of current life in this country, in the Nixon Theatre starting this Monday, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Members of the Settlement will greet the New Year Sunday evening in the Mirror Ball Room. The affair will be held as the usual Sunday night dance and will feature a door prize and other prize dances.

Members of the Settlement will be treated to another splendid Sunday entertainment when they have the privilege of witnessing "The Forest Ring," presented by the Children's Theatre this Sunday at 2 and later at 8 o'clock.

Because of the great interest in Ballroom Dancing, the original class has been divided into a beginner's and advanced division.

CLAIM OF COMMUNISM IS VIGOROUSLY DENIED

government or economic system which is based on, or maintains itself by, the suppression of the elemental bases of human liberty—freedom of speech, of the press, of association, of religious worship—is, therefore, abhorrent to them.

The real reason for the propagation of this falsehood becomes apparent in Chancellor Hitler's words when he refers to "Marxism and its related parliamentary democracy."

Under the pretext of an attack on Bolshevism, many of whose tyrannical features have been adopted by the National Socialists, the Nazi Government has in practice robbed the German people of their civil rights, suppressed freedom of speech, of the press, and assembly, has destroyed the free labor unions and confiscated their funds; and it is now engaged in a pagan assault upon the religious conscience of the Protestant, Catholic and Jew alike. Is it not plain that the thunderbolts against Marxism are only a smokescreen for his sinister designs upon the liberties of the German people and the peace of the world?

Fair Play Will Rule

Because we have an abiding faith in the spirit that animates the true American, we call upon him not to permit this campaign of slander and libel to go unproved. We are confident that our fellow Americans of all faiths, familiar with the lesson of history that oppression sets no limits to its victims, will add their voices in protest against the destruction of the innocents in Germany.

We are firm in our belief that the American sense of justice and fair play will influence our fellow citizens to express themselves unmistakably against the ruthless suppression of liberty of conscience, against the destruction of human lives and human ideals, and against the revival of pagan barbarism in the heart of the civilized world.
