THAT Czarist Russia is no more, was strongly brought out last week when three factory workers, accused of an anti-Semitic outburst, were sentenced to three years imprisonment and banishment to Siberia for another three years.

The appearance in London of the first eight volumes of an unabridged English version of the Talmud is as significant as the translation of the Bible into English.

A distinguished Spanish statesman in his Maimonides celebration speech said, "We Spaniards are glad that the Jews do not bear any resentment against us for the errors of our forefathers."

A unique protest against Nazi cruelties took the form of embracing Judaism in the case of one of the oldest German colonists in Brazil.

Doctors may not recognize a disease known as "broken heart" but this seems the best way to explain the fact that 25 percent of the total deaths during the year in Warsaw were among Jews.

King George has invited the champion Jewish bagpipe players to play for his silver jubilee, which will occur in May.

A Jewish girl was threatened with lynching in an anti-alien rally in Paris on Sunday. It seems that she was accused of throwing a bottle of acid at the crowd.

MOSCOW, April 4. (JTA)—Five workers in a canning plant in Kamienitz Podolsk, Ukraine, were sentenced Friday to different prison terms for anti-Semitic activities and for molesting Jewish workers in the plant.

LABOR REJECTS REVISIONISTS' PEACE PLANS

'Histadruth' Refuses To Ratify Agreement With Jabotinsky In Palestine

JERUSALEM, April 3. (JTA)—Failing to ratify the agreement concluded between Ben-Gurion and Jabotinsky, the Histadruth, the Palestine Federation of Labor, last week submitted new agreements to the Revisionist Labor Federation of Palestine, regulating the right to work and arbitration for every labor group in Palestine.

The new text of the agreement was submitted by the Histadruth after the Revisionist Labor Federation issued a proclamation saying that it "will continue to stand by the basis of the agreement which the Histadruth referendum rejected last Sunday, and will endeavor to preclude new clashes."

Answering this proclamation, the Histadruth, in submitting the text of its new agreement, said in an accompanying letter that the Histadruth is ready for a new agreement "under certain principles."

REVISIONIST LEADER ATTACKS RABBI WISE

CHICAGO, April 4. (JTA)—A sharply worded attack on Rabbi Stephen S. Wise was made here last week by Vladimir Jabotinsky, Revisionist leader, addressing a large audience in Chicago Orchestra Hall.

Taking exception to the recent attack made by Rabbi Wise on the Revisionist movement, Jabotinsky charged that Rabbi Wise has never made a study of the Revisionist program and based his allegations only on a superficial knowledge.

Mr. Jabotinsky started with an objection to Rabbi Wise's characterizing the Revisionists as "Fascists."

Maccabiad Opens In Holy Land

Colorful Ceremonies Greet International Jewish 'Olympics'

TEL AVIV, April 4. (JTA)—Decorated with flags of all nations including the flags of the United States, the second Maccabiad, the all-world Jewish Olympiad, opened Tuesday afternoon with 1,200 Jewish athletes from 27 different countries.

The opening ceremony was one of the most impressive affairs Palestine has ever witnessed. It started with the blowing of trumpets while the Maccabean flag was hoisted from the tower of the stadium, which was crowded with over 10,000 guests from Palestine and foreign countries.

The different Maccabean teams with their fluttering flags of all nations, entered the field in a parade which aroused tremendous enthusiasm. The parade was led by the Austrian team, in accordance with the order of the Hebrew alphabet. It was followed by the teams of South Africa, England and the United States.

The largest share of attention was drawn by the Palestine team which consists of 1,000 members who entered the field led by their own band. Other teams consisted of groups from Bulgaria, Switzerland, Roumania, Czechoslovakia, Egypt, France, Syria, Morocco, Latvia, Lithuania, Danzig, Poland and other countries.

A grand reception of the 1,200 Jewish athletes was held in the morning in the City Hall, prior to the formal opening of the Maccabiad.

OPEN FIGHT TO MAKE PALESTINE BRITISH COLONY

Laborite Leader Will Introduce Resolution In Parliament

LONDON, April 4. (JTA)—A resolution demanding that Palestine be declared a Crown colony instead of a mandated territory under British administration will be introduced in the House of Commons, Colonel Josiah Wedgwood, Laborite member announced.

Col. Wedgwood will also introduce a resolution demanding that any Jew who has succeeded in entering Palestine legally or illegally, be permitted to remain, to purchase land and to settle in Transjordan.

The suggestion to change the status of Palestine from a mandated territory into a British Crown colony, will receive support from certain Jewish leaders and from many British statesmen, it was believed here.

Col. Wedgwood has long advocated that Palestine be proclaimed a British Crown colony, eventually to be converted into a dominion.

It was pointed out here that Col. Wedgwood's proposed resolution is a direct result of the movement recently launched in Palestine by Jewish farmers headed by M. Smilansky, and industrialists, who believe that Palestine's commercial interests will benefit greatly if the country becomes a British colony instead of remaining a mandated territory. As a crown colony, Palestine products would be exempt from customs duties throughout the British Empire and its exports, especially of citrus products, would be greatly increased.

The procedure of converting Palestine from a mandated territory into a Crown colony involves international formalities, since Palestine is now under the control of the League of Nations and Great Britain must report to the Mandates Commission of the League of Nations on any proposed changes for Palestine.

450 YEAR BAN AGAINST SPAIN ENDS IN FETE

Jewish Boycott Officially Lifted During Maimonides Event

CORDOBA, Spain, April 4. (JTA)—A ban proclaimed by the Jews of the world against Spain about 450 years ago, was officially lifted last Sunday at an impressive ceremony concluding the five-day celebration arranged by the Spanish government to honor the 800th birthday of Moses Maimonides, Jewish philosopher and physician of the Middle Ages.

The festivities closed with a banquet at which high civil and military Spanish authorities were present. President Zamora and Premier Lerroix sent messages to the banquet.

A moving scene was the reopening of the old Cordoba Synagogue at which Jewish religious services for the first time since 1492, were held since the entire Jewish population was expelled from Spain. Chief Rabbi Julian Weil of France recited a special prayer for the President of the Spanish Republic and for Spain, for "restoring the Hebrew language and Judaism for the first time since 1492."

It was revealed here that Professor David Blumgarten, formerly of the University of Berlin, had been invited by the committee to participate in the ceremonies as one of the principal guests but was unable to attend because the Nazi government would not permit him to leave the country.

TO GRILL 'BLACK HITLER' ON RIOTS

Negro Agitator Suspected Of Complicity

NEW YORK, April 4. (JTA)—The anti-Semitic activities of Abdul Sufi Hamid, known as "the Black Hitler of Harlem" will be investigated by the Mayor's committee as a result of the recent riots in Harlem during which many Jewish stores were wrecked.

Abdul and his associates are held to be responsible for the agitation stirred in the past year in Harlem against local Jewish merchants who did not employ Negro sales clerks, floor walkers or office help.

A member of the Mayor's committee, of which Dr. Charles J. Roberts, Negro physician, is chairman, intimated that Abdul had flirted with various Nazi organizations in this city and had obtained some encouragement and casual promises of financial aid—if not actual material assistance—in carrying on his anti-Semitic work among the residents of Harlem.

While, it was explained, the committee intends to give careful and serious consideration to the sociological problems involved in any specific policy among Harlem merchants discriminating against the employment of Negroes, it intends also to ferret out such wholly illegitimate movements designed to stir up racial animosities.

BARNEY BARUCH AND REVEREND COUGHLIN

REVEREND COUGHLIN has come in for a great deal of criticism for suggesting that Jews and international bankers are pretty much the same people. Facts deny that Jews dominate the money market. Demands that the radio priest be fair in his choice of language and examples have up until now been met with only an indirect response. In a recent speech, he said:

"The National Union for Social Justice (his brain child) is not worthy of existence unless it embraces on equal footing both Catholic and Protestant, both Jew and Gentile, both black and white. Which one of us has been spared the lash of social justice? Which one of us is ignorant that the concentrators of wealth, the despoilers of prosperity were composed of Protestant, Catholic and Jew? To condemn the unsocial philosophy which these men erroneously, and I hope ignorantly, upheld, I had and will have occasion to mention them by name. Am I anti-Protestant because I castigated a single Protestant munition maker? Am I anti-Jewish because I excoriated Jewish bankers? Am I anti-Catholic because I resented the plutocratic propaganda of a single Catholic ecclesiastic? Religious or social bigotry and social justice are mutual enemies sharing nothing in common."

If the Reverend Father is sincere, let him show his feeling by his conduct and speeches from now on. Let us suggest to him that the next time he wants to point to an ideal American citizen that he choose Mr. Barney Baruch, the unselfish friend and advisor of Presidents, who answered the call of his country, by first disposing of his securities even at a loss so that no breath of suspicion could come his way—a citizen who turned over profits of $400,000 obtained from tungsten mine stock to the non-sectarian Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Catholic Knights of Columbus, the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Men's Hebrew Association.

JOSEPH KARO AND THE SHULHAN ARUK

THE celebration of Maimonides' eight hundredth anniversary has served to impress us with lasting influence of great writings. This month also marks the 360th Yahrzeit of a man who gave modern Judaism its present code of laws—the Spanish Jew, Joseph Karo. Karo fled from Spain with his father and lived the life of a wanderer until he reached Palestine, where, in the region of Safet, he became the chief Rabbi.

His book called the Shulhan Aruk, that is the Set Table, is the modern code of Jewish laws and final authority accepted by most Jews. Karo does not fire the imagination like Maimonides. He was not as versatile. He was neither physician nor philosopher. But he saw that he could render a great service in unifying the Jewish people, scattered over the world, by enabling them quickly to find what the law on a subject was and in this way won for himself an everlasting name.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT "WORKREATOR" STANDS FOR?

WE know of no finer activity in the entire city of Pittsburgh than the Workreator project. It was started early in 1932 and is operated by the United Business Service of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies, in co-operation with the Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations. Its purpose is to find jobs—part-time and full-time jobs—for honest, healthy, capable and earnest Jewish men who are unemployed.

These Jewish men have been trained by experts to aid in housecleaning work such as washing walls and paints, cleaning wall paper, beating rugs and painting. Some are skilled carpenters, electricians and wall-paper hangers.

The prices for these services are modest and reasonable. Since every family does some housecleaning, we believe that there are thousands of jobs that can be given these men. It helps restore their self-respect; it helps their families; it helps you.

Let each of us determine to find some use for this type of service. Every job, no matter how small, will mean a great deal for some deserving person. The Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations is to be commended for undertaking a city-wide drive for Workreator at this time. Let us all help. Anyone wishing to employ these men should call United Business Service, Atlantic 0155. Rather a scarcity of men than a scarcity of jobs.

From The Sermons of Rabbi J. Leonard Levy . . . . .

The following is one of a series of excerpts which The OUTLOOK is publishing each week from the sermons of Dr. J. Leonard Levy, late beloved leader of Pittsburgh Jewry.

All of the sermons were delivered before Congregation Rodef Shalom during the time Dr. Levy served there as rabbi, from 1901 up to his death in 1917, and are being quoted by The Outlook through the courtesy and kindness of Mrs. Levy.

Those who read these excerpts from week to week will find them gems of philosophical thought, expressed simply, and as applicable to conditions today as they were in the time they were given.

The article presented herewith is an excerpt from the lecture entitled "The Man Without Religion," delivered by Dr. Levy on Sunday, April 5, 1903.

"We must understand that religion means life, not opinion. Religion means action, not dogma. Religion means character not creed. Religion means the man, not the church. Religion means what we are and what we seek to be, what we do and what we think, not "what the book states. Religion is identified with a man's life; it is not the exploded opinion of by-gone ages, nor the "shibboleths of mutually anathematizing creeds." It is not the mere statement of principles, for men may repeat formulas and statements of principles by the hundreds and yet be entirely without religion. Religion is not creed and dogma for that form of religion which has persisted longest, has had the least creed about it and is almost entirely without dogma. The fine-spun hair-splittings of theologians, the well-developed logical (?) systems often based on untenable premises, the elaborate theses of professors of theology may be well enough for those who desire them, but they all depend upon certain assumptions about what the Scriptures are supposed to say, rather than about what the Scriptures actually do say.

"... A matter believed for ages is not necessarily true because long believed. The sad feature about dogmatic beliefs is that they are cherished for so long that they come to be regarded as facts. Sooner or later, some incident occurs which completely upsets them. . . .

"Religion must not be regarded as the equivalent of creeds, dogmas or theologies. These are only tools and implements, religion is the fruit; these may be gratifying narcotics, but they are not religion. Religion is a philosophy of life. It is to be identified with human character. It must not be confused with the external means of expressing it."

CAPITAL COMMENT

By Nathan Koenig

WASHINGTON, Apr. 3. (JTA)—Despite the long distance from the scenes of actual diplomatic bickering, Washington has once more become the center of interest of the world capitals. Diplomats are asking the question: What will America do in case of another conflagration. Ambassadors and ministers representing the principal European countries have been bombarded with cablegrams from their governments asking them what is America's policy in the present European crisis.

The dignified foreign representatives are at a loss for an answer. They know only too well that whatever they may say today in regard to this country's position may prove to be wrong tomorrow. Every bit of information they can get hold of is undergoing careful study in the offices of diplomatic representatives of foreign countries. Positive information cannot be obtained from the State Department or any other official source. The foreign diplomats would like to know if America again will come to the aid of the allies in case of another war.

President Roosevelt, it has become clear, is playing a clever game. To the great disappointment of the information hungry foreigners, he still talks, officially, about the prospects of a general disarmament conference. The thing that stumps the diplomats is that they don't know whether he is thinking about a disarmament conference in the near future or after the next war.

The German embassy in Washington is quite confident that the United States will not take part in any European conflict. Thus, Ambassador Luther is quite happy. He knows definitely that this government strongly resents Germany's rearmament move, but does not expect more than a word of protest in the form of a note which by the way may or may not be sent by the United States.

With various forces playing upon prejudices in an effort to disintegrate the ties which unite the people of this country into a body seeking common goals of liberty, peace and justice, it has become increasingly evident that the time has come when there is need for greater adherence to the basic principles of religion if the great moral forces necessary to govern human behaviour are not to be destroyed.

This is an observation resulting from the convention of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, which for the first time in more than forty years met at the nation's capital to discuss the problems of American Jewry. With striking effect, the speakers at the convention, which was attended by more than 1,500 Jews from all over the country, stressed the need for the upbuilding of the religious side of American life.

The works of Maimonides constitute an important part of the books and manuscripts contained in the Semitic Division of the Library of Congress. At the present time the Library of Congress is sharing in the octocentennial celebration of his birth. The books and manuscripts which Dr. Herbert Putnam, librarian, and Dr. Israel Schapiro, chief of the Semitic Division, have selected for exhibition in connection with the celebration, are fascinating in themselves and are attracting large public interest.

Dr. Schapiro is a student of Maimonides and has done considerable writing about the life and work of this great Jewish scholar of the middle ages.

News of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies

Board Members of Federation Studying Agencies

THE men and women who comprise the board of directors of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies are finding time not only to direct the work of the Federation—but to take part in a new project through which they are learning of the intimate problems of every one of the organizations affiliated with the Federation.

The new project, announced this week by Leon Falk, Jr., president, is three-fold in its purpose and scope. It is intended to more closely familiarize each Federation board-member with the detailed work being done by every one of the organization's 15 member-agencies. In addition it gives the individual agency the opportunity to profit by the observations of an interested on-looker whose point of view is community-wide rather than limited to the individual organization. It also—probably most important—will serve to more closely coordinate the work of the Federation's member-agencies through a more frequent exchange of ideas between representative board-members.

The principal aim of the plan, of course, is to improve Jewish philanthropic work in every way possible. In the opinion of Dr. Ludwig B. Bernstein, executive director of the Federation who originated it, this is obviously certain to result when board-members responsible for the work know more intimately of the most pressing problems of the various organizations.

The plan has entailed the setting up, within the Federation board, of several "functional" committees, members of each of which study the work of certain groups of agencies. There are committees on Child Welfare, Family Welfare, Health Care and Character Building.

The committee on Family Welfare attends board meetings of such organizations as the Jewish Family Welfare Association, the Hebrew Free Loan Association, the United Business Service, the Hebrew Free Burial Association and the House of Shelter, "listening in" as the members of the various organizations within this group discuss their prob-

The symphonies of Brahms and Sibelius, which have been performed during the past season, will be continued, and of great interest locally will be the "premiere" performance of Dr. Harvey Gaul's "Three Palestinian Pastels," (for strings).

Among the soloists to appear with the orchestra next year are Kirsten Flagstad, soprano; Artur Schnabel, pianist; Nathan Milstein, violinist; Beveridge Webster, pianist, and Elisabeth Rethberg, soprano.

Similarly, the committee on Child Welfare includes the J. M. Guskay Hebrew Orphanage and the Pittsburgh Bureau for Jewish Children, which are the child-caring agencies of the Federation. GEORGE WASHINGTON FOREST

A view of the huge forest, built in Palestine on land provided by the Jewish National Fund, which perpetuates the name of America's first president in the the Holy Land. Many of the trees have been planted in the name of Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

LLOYDS' Bank of London and the Anglo-Palestine Bank of Jerusalem have made a fifteen-year 4 percent loan to the Keren Hayesod, of $2,500,000, of which Lloyds took nine-tenths and the Anglo-Palestine took the remaining one-tenth. The Keren Hayesod was organized in 1921 as a money raising fund to provide money to settle immigrants in Palestine upon the subvention plan, with the result that with the exhaustion of the $25,000,000 which it raised since 1921 by public appeals, half of which came from the United States, it found itself heavily involved in debt, which it was necessary to consolidate into one loan at a smaller interest than what it was paying for its scattered loans.

Is Financial Agency

In an article in the New Palestine, Joseph L. Cohen, a member of the faculty of Economics at Columbia University, makes this statement: "Since 1920, the Keren Hayesod has acted as the financial instrument of the Zionist Organization and the Jewish Agency for Palestine. It has subsidized education, public health and other social service activities, immigration, research and colonization and has acquired a certain body of material assets. In the course of that period, it has incurred debts to the amount of a half-million pounds, and these were in the form of short period bills and bank loans. These have now been consolidated into a medium long period loan which is to be amortized in fifteen years."

In order to obtain the loan, it was necessary for the Keren Hayesod to assign all its Palestine possessions and assets as collateral security. None of the Keren Hayesod investments in Palestine have been or ever will be productive and, except for the 2 percent interest it will save, its interest obligation and its requirements for amortization of the loan will have to be raised by appeals to world Jewry for these purposes and for fresh money to carry on new subventioned efforts according to the response of the public appeals.

Policy Is Dangerous

The wisdom of continuing unproductive subventioned effort is to my mind dubious and dangerous. Palestine has proved definitely and conclusively that it is and can be self supporting and self sustaining and that the need for gratuitous help is past. There are agencies in Palestine today, like the Palestine Economic Corporation and the Histadruth, ready and willing to grant financial help on a credit and interest basis which saves the self respect and pride of the colonists who, as a result, have the consciousness of working and building for themselves.

The position I take with regard to the Keren Hayesod now, we, the so-called Brandeis Group, took in 1921 when, instead of the Brandeis Plan of building and developing Palestine—not by subventioning it but by an underwritten program of constructive self-paying, self-supporting immigration—the Weizman-Shmaryaherm and Lipsky group forced upon Palestine and upon World Jewry the Keren Hayesod, based not upon Jewish investment in Palestine, but on a philanthropic support based on emotional public appeals.

The wisdom of our objection there is borne out by experience and the merit of our plan by creating, as our substitute for the outlet of our Zionist and Palestine interest, was the creation of a network of Palestine Development League in which thousands of loyal Zionists invested their money and which later, with the cooperation of the Joint Distribution Committee, resulted in 1925 in the launching of the Palestine Economic Corporation.

Claims Criticism Justified

If what I have said about the past and future of the Keren Hayesod is considered as a criticism of its creation, its past, its future and its basic philosophy, then it is constructive criticism and justified. The fact is that while the Keren Hayesod was compelled, because of the inherent weakness of its plan, to mortgage its assets so as to carry its debts over for a period of fifteen years, the millions of dollars which we invested in Palestine based on our plan, are secure and intact, free of debt, with every dollar of it available for a continuance of our material help to all legitimate Palestine needs.

Our position is justified, too, by the fact that the founders of the Jewish National Fund, which owns enormous tracts of land in Palestine as the inalienable property of the Jewish people, stayed within its income, never made an investment unless the money was not much, undertook no development unless the money was in hand for it.

THE LAND for the Hebrew University buildings on Mount Scopus, in Palestine, has been provided by the Jewish National Fund.

THE OUTLOOK BRIDGE CLUB

By Leonard Seder
Authorized Culbertson Teacher
Change In Scoring

Last Sunday night a peculiar situation arose at the club. Our friends, the Hamburgs and Morgansterns, were playing rubber bridge and at 5 minutes to 12 Jacob Hamburg dealt the following hand:

Leonard Seder

Mrs. Hamburg

The bidding needs no comment, for it is the conventional method of bidding such a powerful hand.

Committees To Start
'Workreator' Project

A list of persons who will be asked within the next week to help provide work for unemployed Jewish men of this community, has been prepared by the Workreator committee of the Conference of Jewish Womens Organizations, Mrs. Homer Klater, chairman of the committee, announced this week.

The project is being carried out in co-operation with the United Business Service, an agency of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies. Through 26 teams of women, it is hoped that all parts of the city will be canvassed and that spring cleaning and redecorating will serve to provide employment for numerous heads of families in need of aid.

The idea behind the project is to actually create jobs where jobs would not ordinarily exist, heads of the campaign explain. Dependable Jewish men, specially trained to do housecleaning, or skilled work such as painting or paperhanging, will be provided through Workreator at nominal cost. There will be no service charge.

Aiding Mrs. Klater are Mrs. Jay Goldstein and Mrs. Harry Kalmine, co-chairman.

The play of the hand involved nothing except pulling the adversaries' trumps and discarding a heart and 2 clubs upon South's set-up diamonds. There was no defense for defeating the contract.

The greatest interest in the hand came about when it was time to record the score on the score pad. Mr. Hamburg gave himself 2250 points for the vulnerable grand slam, but the Morgansterns claimed that the slam should only be 1000 points, for it was now 2 minutes past midnight; and the new method of scoring officially goes into effect on April 1.

Four people were all talking at once as I entered the room in which they were playing. Mr. Hamburg said the old score should be used since the hand was dealt before midnight. Mr. Morganstern claims that it is the termination of the play of the deal that should be considered, and accordingly the new score for the grand slam should be used. The two women were content to emphasize what their husbands were saying by repeating them word for word.

When they asked me to settle the argument, I first looked at the fiery Louis Morganstern whose keen eyes were blazing just as they did at the termination of the Morganstern-Hamburg match a few weeks ago. Then my eyes passed to Jacob Hamburg, who was the calmest of the four. His voice could only be heard 5 floors below. Mrs. Hamburg looked at me as if she knew that my decision would be in her favor, and Mrs. Morganstern warned me that my decision had better be fair, for they were playing for 5 cents a point.

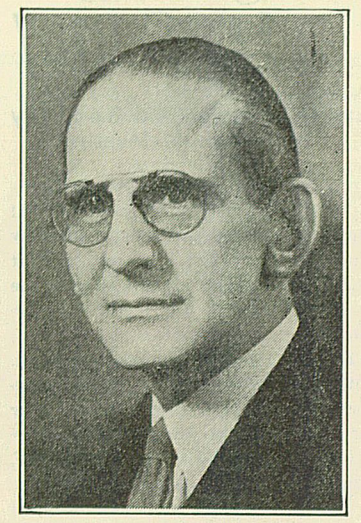

In order to keep my friendship intact with these two grand old couples, I told them to compromise between 1500 and 2250. They agreed; the Hamburgs got 1375 points for bidding and making their vulnerable grand slam.

Rosenthal Joins East End
De Sota and Plymouth Dealer

HERBERT H. ROSENTHAL

Herbert H. Rosenthal needs no lengthy introduction. Popular among thousands of automobile owners in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County, he has been appointed manager of new car sales for C. Herman, 5848-50 Baum Boulevard, East End dealer in De Sota and Plymouth cars.

From the time Mr. Rosenthal entered the automobile business he made it a point to record every sale he made, covering the date, body, type, color, model, serial and motor number thus he carries a handy pocket record available to his customers on a moment's notice. It bids fair to say hundreds of his customers will be pleased to know he has a popular line of cars to sell and at popular prices.

Mr. Rosenthal chose to sell the De Sota and Plymouth on account of their mechanical details—Hydraulic brakes, performance, economical upkeep, individually styled, riding comfort and a popularly-priced quality product.

THE SABBATH STORY HOUR

By Theresa Loeb Cerf

Theresa Loeb Cerf

This Friday evening seemed so slow in coming! At least, so thought Joan and Bobby Israel. A treat had been promised for tonight by their parents, and that was, to be allowed to go to the Maimonides pageant at the Temple. The children always looked forward to an evening out with their parents and this was no exception.

As they are seated around the dinner table, father says to Bobby, "Do you know why we are having an entertainment in honor of the memory of Moses Maimonides?"

"Yes, I do," answered Bobby, "it is 800 years since the birth of this wonderful man."

"Please, father," interrupts Joan, "tell us more about Maimonides. Our teacher in Sunday School started to tell us about his life, but the bell rang before she could finish."

"All right dear, we've almost finished dinner and we don't have to leave till 8 o'clock. I can't begin to tell you everything about this famous man, but I'll try and pick out the facts which I think will be most interesting to know for both of you. It was during the time of the persecution in Spain that Moses ben Maimon was born in Cordova, on Passover eve, in the year 1135. His family had been for eight generations a family of scholars, and his father was a learned Talmudist, and member of the rabbinical college of Cordova. And so it was from this learned parent that Moses learned the Bible and the Talmud.

"When the boy was only thirteen, the African Mohammedans seized Cordova, and Moses' father was forced to choose between accepting a heathen faith and fleeing. Most naturally, they chose the latter course, and for many years the family wandered from place to place, finally settling near Cairo, Egypt. Here they suffered many misfortunes; first, the father's death, then the brother who supported the family was lost at sea.

"As you can well imagine, little Moses had suffered physically from the many hardships, but it was his task now to support the family. He determined to become a physician, and it wasn't long until Maimonides, as he had come to be known now, attracted the notice of influential people, and was appointed doctor at the court of the great Saladin. He was one of the first doctors to realize that it is just as important for a physician to prevent illness as to cure it.

"In spite of the fact that his duties kept him very busy, he spent his few leisure hours writing about important matters concerning Judaism. His work became so well-known that he soon overshadowed all other philosophers and grammarians. He became the greatest man of letters of his time.

"Not only did he explain the Talmud to his people, and in this way help them, but Maimonides also had great influence upon world thought. The Mohammedans considered him one of the greatest of philosophers. He always practiced self-restraint, patience, and, like Hillel, was modest and gentle.

"When Moses Maimonides died in 1204 he was mourned by both Jews and Mohammedans. He had accomplished many wonderful things. He had taken the perplexing Jewish laws and explained them and had given the Jewish people a simplified code by which to govern their lives. He brought together the truths of religion and philosophy in his book called 'The Guide to the Perplexed.' His entire life was exemplified in the expression, 'Know the God of thy father and serve Him,' and people

The Passover Holiday seems to come just at the right time of the year. The hustle and bustle of spring housecleaning which necessarily accompanies the preparation for Passover, fills one with the desire to discard the last vintage of winter's dust, dirt and heavy togs, to rededicate one's self to the tasks of life with renewed spirit and energy. The Passover holiday, which is the Jewish Independence Day, certainly is a grand time to celebrate—new clothes, fresh homes, rejuvenated hearts and new Pesach recipes.

BRAZIL NUT CAKE

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups ground Brazil nuts

Mix the sugar, salt, and the ground nuts. Beat the yolks until lemon color and gradually beat in the sugar-nut mixture. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into three greased 8-inch layer cake pans and bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. Spread with seven minute frosting. This cake may be made in a tube pan or a spring form. If so, bake in a slow oven for 20 minutes, raise the temperature to 375 degrees for 10 minutes and then decrease the heat to a slow oven and bake 30 minutes longer. Serve plain.

SEVEN MINUTE FROSTING

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup whole Brazil nuts

Boil the sugar and water over a low fire until the syrup forms a thin thread from the tip of the spoon. Pour very slowly over the stiffly beaten egg whites and beat until smooth and stiff enough to spread. Frost the cake and arrange the whole nuts on top.

CARROT-NUT TORTE

- 1 cup walnuts, coarsely broken
- 1 cup matzo meal
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 6 eggs

Beat the yolks and the sugar until light and creamy. Add the grated carrots, nuts, matzo meal and the cinnamon. Mix thoroughly. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and fold into the mixture. Pour into a lined loaf or square pan and bake in a moderate oven about 1/2 of an hour or until a toothpick when inserted comes out dry.

SPONGE CAKE

- 2 tablespoons potato starch
- 2 tablespoons lukewarm water

Beat slightly and add the water and the juice of the lemon. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and pour into a large cake pan which has been lined with paper. Bake in a moderate oven. This batter may be used for muffins or baked in two layers and put together with a fruit-nut filling and topped with seven Minute Frosting.

FRENCH FRIED POTATOES

- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Matzo squares (3 or 4 inch pieces)

Beat the eggs and add the salt. Dip the matzo squares in the egg and fry in hot fat on both sides until a golden brown. Serve immediately. If desired sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon.

SPINACH PANCAKES

- 1/2 peck spinach
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup matzo meal

Wash the spinach thoroughly and cook in the water that clings to the leaves. Put through the food chopper or cut very fine. Beat the eggs slightly and add with the salt and matzo meal. Mix thoroughly and drop by spoonfuls on a hot well greased frying pan. Fry on both sides until well browned.

POTATO PUDDING or PANCAKES

- 6 medium sized potatoes
- 1 cup matzo meal
- 3 eggs
- 1 teaspoon salt

Pare and grate the potatoes. Add the matzo meal, egg yolks, and the salt. Mix. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. You no doubt were so beguiled by the glamorous report of Mexico last week that you have already taken steps to realize that long-suppressed desire, and are even now planning to take the next boat out for that exotic country. If you are a student of history, the trip will surely excite your interest and imagination. Bear in mind, however, that this unusual country has romance, beauty and education to offer ALL who choose to visit her, for despite many years of exploitation, the hard-laboring, energetic Mexican people can justly claim that country as a monument to their own achievement.

The GRACE LINE is a specialist in the matter of cruises to Mexico. Their so-called "Santa" liners, used on these trips, are gay ships, modern and popular. In 21 days, you need not only tour Mexico, but may also browse along the way in some of the ancient cities of South America . . . Cartagena, for instance . . . or go sight-seeing at the Canal, Balboa, Panama City, etc.

Cartagena was one of the few ports which President Roosevelt elected to visit last summer. During the years of the Spanish Conquest, it was the main stronghold of Colombia (or New Granada, as it was then called). Although Cartagena is in close touch with her modern neighbors, she has changed but little since the time, four centuries ago, when Spain sent over royal architects and engineers to design its palaces and lay out its streets. Cartagena . . . the only seat in the New World upon which Spain lavished part of the spoils of her conquests.

If you would see a bit of Switzerland in South America, the Chilean Lakes should be your stopping place. Situated in the Central Chilean Valley and extending southward from Temuco to Puerto Montt culminating in picturesque Lake Llanquihue (about 24 hours by train from Santiago, Chile's capital), the Lake district is much like the beauty spots of Switzerland. There are friendly towns around the lakes, too, inhabited by hospitable people who are always ready to receive visitors and "show off" their favorite mountains, etc.

Many of Chile's lakes are famous as fresh-water fishing fields . . . this certainly should be bait for the anglers. The story is related of four anglers who fished recently at Villarrica, a lake in Southern Chile, and in one and one-half days caught 130 Rainbow trout averaging from three to five pounds in weight (you have my word for it, this is not just another "fish story"). In fact, Villarrica has become such a paradise for fishermen that regular excursions from Santiago are featured in connection with the new 39-day de Luxe cruises to Chile, just announced by the Grace Line.

U. S. Rubber Company
Observes 25th Year

This year the United States Rubber Company will observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of its vast rubber plantations in the Far East, one of the most successful foreign enterprises ever pioneered by an American manufacturer.

One picture of the development of the plantations is reflected in production figures. Crude rubber output per year at five-year intervals tells the following story: 1915, 1,043,516 pounds; 1920, 13,112,918 pounds; 1925, 19,670,033 pounds; 1930, 36,619,876 pounds; 1934, 50,985,962 pounds. Incidentally, last year's production was more than three times as much as the combined output of all other American rubber companies. And the total from 1910 through 1934 reached the amazing figure of 470,237,463 pounds.

HOT OFF THE GRIDDLE

Barney Ross, king of the lightweights, has signed to meet Lou Ambers, June 5, at the Yankee Stadium. Mike Jacobs will stage the show. Ambers, whose real name is Ambrosini, is one of the best 135 pounders in the game. His battle with Rasofsky should be a thriller. One month after that the Chicago fighter will meet Jimmy McLarnin for the third time in order to regain the welterweight championship which he won last May and held for three months and four days.

Flash—The three Maccabi athletes who blocked the gangplank of the President Roosevelt and held the boat for ten minutes have just arrived in Palestine. The trio of Maccabians were sent abroad on the very last boat that could reach Tel Aviv in time for the Second Maccabiad. They successfully delayed the departure of the S. S. Roosevelt while they waited for their passports to come through.

Flash—Art Lasky, the orthodox potato picker from the farms of Minnesota, who had been hailed as the new Californian threat of Maxie Baer's title has been eliminated from the list of heavy-weight contenders. He lost a thrilling fight to Jimmy Braddock, a ring gladiator of the old school. Braddock has now been listed as the number one man of the heavy-weights in this country.

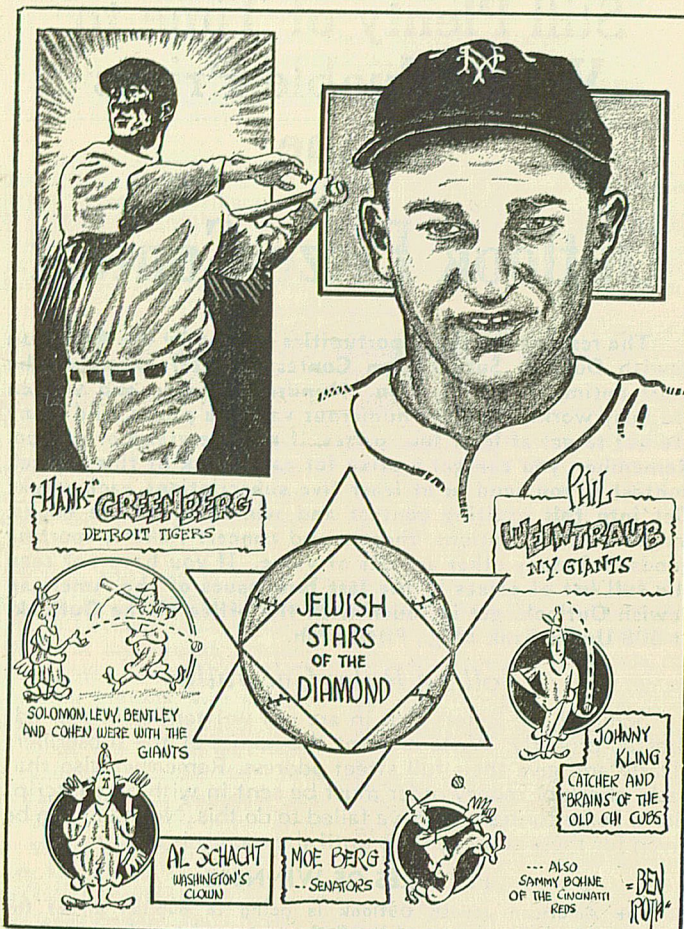

Flash—Viktor 'Viki' Barna, world table tennis champion for the last six years, told our Vienna correspondent that the majority of the world-champion ping pong team that won the Swaythling Cup for the third time, were Jewish, but that the conditions under which they played for that country was that they had to drop their Jewish names and adopt Hungarian names.

Flash—Bill Eistenstadt, former Brooklyn High School pitcher, has been assured of a permanent place with the Brooklyn Dodgers this season. Bill is a nineteen-year-old Jewish southpaw.

Flash—Izzy Goldstein, rookie who has been fighting for a place on the Detroit Tigers has been relegated to the minor leagues for another year of seasoning.

Flash—Joe Jacobs, manager of the German former-world's heavyweight champion, Maxie Schmeling, is having his hands full in New York, because he raised his hand in the Hitler salute after the fight. Jacobs says he didn't. Associated Press pictures show him strap-hanging. He is having a hard time soothing all the organizations in the East who are contemplating boycotting his fighter. BOXER, WRESTLER, RUNNER ARRIVE

The three Maccabi athletes who almost caused the President Roosevelt to miss the tide while they waited for their passports and tickets have just landed in Palestine. They will strengthen the American team of fourteen that sailed a week before them.

Bernard Kaplan, 175 pound intercollegiate boxing champion; Phil Goodman of Baltimore, national Y. M. H. A. featherweight and wrestling champion, and Harry Werbin, of Michigan Normal College, distance runner, were the trio who are augmenting the American forces at the second Maccabiad.

The three disembarked at Havre, took a train to Marseilles, boarded another boat for Haifa, the seaport, and flew to Tel Aviv, landing outside the newly built stadium.

The late-sailing group arrived in time to participate in their events later this week. Werbin will run in the 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meter races. He competed in the first Maccabiad in 1932, placing second in the 5,000 and third in the 10,000 meter grind. Bernard Kaplan, who has been intercollegiate boxing champion at the light-heavyweight class for the last two years, won the final Maccabi tryouts held in New York in both the boxing and wrestling events. He will enter the two events as will Phil Goodman of Baltimore.

It was hoped to send two other athletes on the Olympic but the necessary funds did not appear. Thus Harold Dash, of Chicago, a free style swimmer, and Gus Heyman, former C. C. N. Y. sprinter who won the 100 and 200 meter races in Palestine three years ago, who were sure-fire bets to pile up the points that will be needed so badly by the

Spring Brings Swimming Activities To Fore At I.K.S.

The sixth annual inter-club swimming championships will soon get underway at the Irene Kaufmann Settlement. Events for all members, both male and female, from the ages of nine years through adulthood, are scheduled. The competition will be for the A. J. Sunstein trophies, which will be presented to the winners of the following events: free style, breast stroke, back stroke, diving, medley relay, and the girls' side stroke.

All Settlement members, excluding members of the Settlement swimming team, are invited to enter the meet. Non-members may compete by joining the Settlement, which will make them eligible for this and other activities of the institution.

A.M.A. Diving Championships

In the latter part of April, the Irene Kaufmann Settlement will sponsor the A.M.A. Junior Low Board diving championships. Members of the Settlement and non-members living in the tri-state area are eligible to compete.

Life Saving Classes

Life-saving classes for young boys and girls as well as adults are being held daily at the Irene Kaufmann Settlement. Adult interest has grown and increased tremendously because of the individual and personal supervision given, it is reported.

Prepare For Boy's Club Events

Members of the Irene Kaufmann Settlement will soon be getting ready for the annual Boy's Clubs of America swimming events. Participants will prime themselves for the best possible time in the five following events: 40 yard free style; 60 yard free style; 20 yard 5 pound carry, and the 20 yard breast stroke.

OPERA IN THE MOVIES
 The success of Grace Moore in "One Night of Love" means the influx of operatic talent into Hollywood. Of course, Miss Moore made two pictures before her sensational "One Night of Love," but it was only in the latter picture that she created a furore. Her next picture, now in production and as yet untitled, will have to be well-nigh perfect to match "One Night of Love."

And now comes Lawrence Tibbett, with his magnificent voice again about to thrill millions of movie fans in a new picture, "The Diamond Horse Shoe"; Lily Pons, scheduled for an RKO operatic feature; Nelson Eddy, soon to do "Maytime," the Romberg operetta for MGM; and Gladys Swarthout, the noted radio prima donna, now singing the title role in Paramount's "Rose of the Rancho."

MASCULINE SUPREMACY
 Well, with one quarter of 1935 already history, we just can't think of any feminine performance in the movies that will compare with several of the masculine thespian efforts. Just try and think of any feminine performance so far in 1935 that will compare with Charles Laughton's "Ruggles of Red Gap"; Leslie Howard's "Scarlet Pimpernel"; Fred Astaire's "Roberta"; Gary Cooper's and Franchot Tone's "Lives of a Bengal Lancer"; George Brent's "Living on Velvet"; and Edward G. Robinson's

"The Whole Town's Talking."
 No, the girls definitely have to take a back seat in favor of the more virile sex this year. At least, so far this year.

Wherein We Intone Hallel's For Mailamm
 By MUSICUS

"What is MAILAMM," you ask? MAILAMM is a significant musical affiliate of the Hebrew University in Palestine. MAILAMM was formed as a result of the 1931 American visit of Professor Salomo Rosowski in the interest of the Palestine Institute of Musical Sciences. The term, MAILAMM, derives from the initials of words of the Hebrew title of the institute, namely MACHON ARETZ ISRAELI LA' MADAI haMUSIKA. The inception of the Institute dates back to 1929 when activity of the Society for the Advancement of Music founded an association, the successor to which bids fair to become of world importance in the general musical field, and of vital significance in the research of Hebrew music lore and in the support of the furtherance of musical activity of Jewish musicians in the land of their ancestors. To achieve realization of the Institute funds were raised by a mammoth concert at Carnegie Hall, New York City under chairmanship of Felix Warburg. Contributing their professional services for this important occasion were Ossip Gabrilowitsch, noted pianist and conductor of the Detroit Orchestra and Mischa Elman, world famed violinist. But the monies derived from this event were insufficient to carry on the aims of the Society, hence Professor Rosowski's visit to the U.S.A. The upshot of this visit was the formation of MAILAMM by a committee including Joseph Achron, A. W. Binder, Laurence Levine, Leo Low, Lazare Saminsky, Jacob Weinberg, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winogradov, Joseph Yasser and Mrs. Charles Zunser. To the best of its ability MAILAMM contributed steadily to the support of the Institute's aims and activities in Jerusalem and in Tel Aviv which included classes in theory; chorus and orchestral study; Hebrew opera; and research.

While economic conditions necessitated suspension of activity by the Palestine Institute, the U.S.A. MAILAMM flourished and attracted to its membership a large number of Jewish musical authorities, performing and creative musicians and others interested in what MAILAMM stands for.

Finally, in October, 1934, with the desire to widen its scope of activity and to extend the influence of its cultural aims MAILAMM became connected with the Hebrew University. Thus identified with this temple of learning MAILAMM hopes to not only make vital contributions to Jewish music, but to awaken both in Eretz Israel and the Diaspora a fuller understanding and appreciation of that music.

That Jews throughout the U.S.A. are hugely interested in MAILAMM is indicated strongly by the chapters being organized in various parts of the country. Some 20 organizations have already banded together between New York and Los Angeles.

"Just what," you may inquire, "are the definite purposes of MAILAMM?" Firstly, MAILAMM is dedicated to the renaissance of Jewish music.

It fosters development of a Center of Musical Sciences and Education at the Hebrew University at Jerusalem. It encourages musical interchange between Palestine and America.

It promotes the performance of Jewish music of all lands and of all ages.

So far as Palestine is concerned MAILAMM'S connection with the Hebrew University has been to establish at the University a Depart-

This past week has been a busy one for all good little co-eds at the university. Of course you know they've been studying furiously for exams, in addition to working extra hard in various activities.

Barnetta Davis

It all began with the Pan-Hellenic formal Banquet, held last Thursday in the Heinz House. This is an annual affair, which all sorority girls attend. On the program were Grace Moskowitz, Dorothy Zimmerman and Virginia Raskin, who sang various sorority songs. Marcella Leyton and Helen Bart were among the speakers of the evening. Incidentally, these same two, (known to every one on campus) will lead discussions at the annual conference to be held next week for which Pan-Hellenic association is preparing. Last night that very worthy association, of which Martha Green is treasurer, gave a dance at the Urban Room. 'Twas formal and open only to couples of which the girls were sorority members. (More about that next week.)

Next Wednesday, women's elections will take place on Pitt campus. Nominees standing good chances for various positions are: Gertrude Schein, who is up for secretary of senior class, Ruth Shapiro, president of junior class, Ruth Alpern, treasurer of junior class and Ruth Horowitz and Marcella Leyton, who are up for ment of Research in Hebrew Cantillation under Professor Salomo Rosowski.

The MAILAMM library committee is already engaged in organizing the University's Music Library. To this end valuable contributions and cooperation has been secured.

A research laboratory in the University is now being planned to study and record the sacred chants and folk music of Palestine and the Near East.

As to MAILAMM'S American activities it purposes to present through concerts and lectures Jewish musical achievements, and to encourage Jewish creative activity in music. Toward accomplishment of these ends the music committee of MAILAMM has the wholehearted cooperation of outstanding composers and musicians.

Certainly the laudable and lofty aims of MAILAMM should enlist the unsolicited support of all those who are interested in the propagation of all art and culture and especially in the significance of the age old Hebrew contributions

Electric Auto 'Doctor'

Carrying a complete stock of every conceivable type of Ford-recommended equipment, Adolph A. Blattner, Inc., Ford dealers, are prepared to service every model Ford car and truck, as well as other make cars.

One feature of the Blattner service is a Ford laboratory testing set. Electrically operated, it is an apparatus which diagnoses the engine and electrical system of an automobile, but particularly the Ford. Replacing the guess-work which is so frequently resorted to by mechanics seeking some hidden source of trouble in an auto, the Ford laboratory testing set works as though it were a "human mechanical doctor." It is a product of the Westinghouse Company.

The mechanical tester is, however, only one form of the varied services featured by Adolph Blattner, head of the corporation, and his organization. Mr. Blattner, in the years he has spent in the automobile field, has had ample opportunity to learn what type of service car and truck owners expect—and it is that kind of service which he and his skilled staff are rendering in their headquarters at 3131 Forbes Street.

MORRY GOLDMAN

Smartly dressed men, by the thousands, long ago learned to value the word of "Morry" Goldman as an authority on good clothes.

It is then no wonder that Will Price, 539 Wood Street, has become more than ever the headquarters of fine, specially tailored men's clothes, since Mr. Goldman assumed charge of their department several years ago.

Every suit or topcoat purchased from this organization is fitted by master tailors under careful scrutiny by the management—so that it is no wonder that "Morry's" customers have been regular for years, and their recommendation have been responsible for innumerable new and satisfied customers. Will Price is now particularly featuring GGG men's suits, where style is obviously tailored into the garment.
