Many Jews Running For Election

By MILTON FRIEDMAN

COMMUNITY TRENDS: About 40,000 Jews are now making a living of "Jewishness" in the United States . . . They are employed in Jewish religious, cultural, philanthropic and social institutions and organizations . . . This is about 10,000 more than the number of civil servants in Israel, which reached 29,198 this year . . . The Jewish National Welfare Board claims that there is room for another 40,000 employees in American Jewish communal life . . . There is an acute shortage of social workers, modern rabbis, teachers and others whose work requires a good American education coupled with Jewish knowledge . . . The shortage is especially felt in the Jewish centers, as well as in the new synagogues which keep growing throughout the country . . . The existing rabbinical seminaries and colleges do not provide the number of rabbis needed, although it cost the community more to train a rabbi in these institutions than it cost the government to train a cadet at West Point . . . Of the small number of rabbis graduating yearly from the Jewish Theological Seminary, or Hebrew Union College, or Yeshiva University, few are inclined to remain in the rabbinate . . . A good many of them seek executive positions with Zionist and other Jewish organizations . . . This despite the fact that the income of a rabbi in the United States is higher than the income of spiritual leaders of other religions . . . According to data published this month by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the average income of a Protestant Minister is $2,500 a year . . . A young rabbi just graduated from a Jewish theological school gets a starting salary of $5,000 a year, in addition to income from officiating at marriages, bar-mitzvahs and funerals . . . Somewhat similar is the situation with Jewish social workers, since Jewish organizations usually pay higher salaries than non-Jewish groups because they need people with a good Jewish background, which is not so easy to find . . . The poorest paid employee in American Jewish communal life is the teacher . . . This explains why practically no one in the teaching profession wants to enter the Jewish field . . . There are today several thousand graduate Jewish teachers in the New York public school system . . . They prefer to work for the city rather than for Jewish educational institutions . . . Nevertheless, the fact that 40,000 Jews are engaged professionally in Jewish communal activities and that 40,000 more are needed, illustrates the tempo of Jewish life in this country . . . It certainly dis-

YUGOSLAVIAN GENTILES AND JEWISH CAMPAIGN

LONDON, (JTA)—Many non-Jews and social, political and professional associations in Yugoslavia have contributed to the campaign of the Yugoslav Jewish community to finance a section of the Martyrs Forest in Israel, in memory of the 6,000,000 Jews murdered by the Nazis, it was reported in the latest bulletin of the Federation of Yugoslav Jewish Communities.

The bulletin reports that a committee of Belgrade inhabitants has raised 300,000 dinars for the forest while Sarajevo inhabitants have contributed 200,000 and smaller but sizeable contributions have come from various other groups. One such group, the District People's Committee of Visoko, has contributed 14,400 dinars, the cost of one tree to commemorate each of the 48 Jewish victims of fascism in that district.

Some associations, such as doctors and lawyers groups, have contributed the cost of one tree as a symbol for the Jewish members of their profession lost to the Nazi executioners. Among the groups which have contributed, the bulletin reported, were the Patriarchate of the Serbian Orthodox Church, firemen's groups, and mailmen and telegrapher's associations.

BEY OF TUNIS LEADS RITUAL FOR 20,000 JEWS

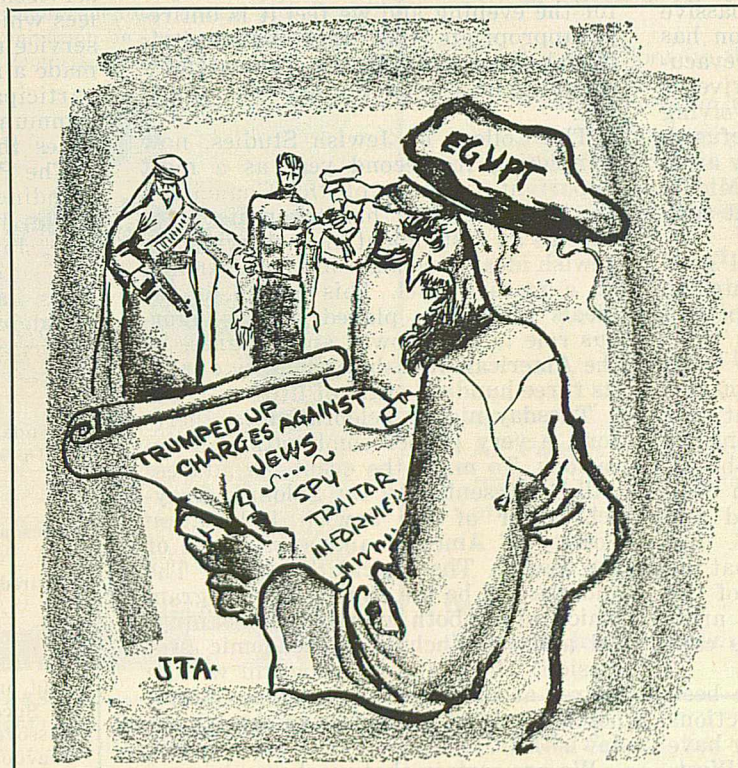

PARIS, (JTA)—For the first time in history, the Bey of Tunis presided at a ceremony held at the Great Synagogue of Tunis. The Bey was accompanied by his Premier, Tahar Ben Ammar, French Resident General Boyer Latour and other Tunisian and French members of the government. The cornerstone of a Jewish center at the synagogue was laid at the ceremony.

"It is most agreeable to me to declare again what I have affirmed on many previous occasions—that the Tunisian Government considers Moslem and Jew as brother Tunisians with the same rights and duties," Premier Ben Ammar declared. Gen. Latour stressed the common history of Tunisian Jews and Moslem, in an address.

EGYPT URGED TO HALT MASS JEWISH ARRESTS

NEW YORK, (JTA)—The World Jewish Congress has urgently appealed to the Government of Egypt to halt the mass arrests of Egyptian Jews which are now going forward "without abatement."

Pointing out that the situation of Egypt's 35,000 Jews "has precipitously deteriorated" within the past several months, spokesmen for the WJC declared that reports reaching its New York headquarters in recent weeks indicate that more than 150 Jews "have been corralled in mass arrests and have been charged with Zionism as a crime and with other crimes ranging from attempted arson to Communism."

WASHINGTON—The political fate of over 20 Jewish candidates for Congress will be decided on November 2 when the nation goes to the polls.

Election results may install a Jewish governor in Connecticut. He is A. A. Ribicoff, a Democrat who formerly served in Congress.

A victory for Richard L. Neuberger, Oregon Democrat who is seeking the seat of Republican Sen. Guy Gordon, would put two Jews in the Senate. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman's term runs until 1956. Only once in American history have two Jews served at the same time in the Senate. That happened 1907 and 1912 when Sen. Simon Guggenheim, of Colorado, and Sen. Isador Rayner, of Maryland, served simultaneously.

In some districts, Jewish candidates for the House of Representatives are running against other Jews. Most Jewish candidates, however, are Democrats. Rep. Jacob K. Javits, the only Jewish Republican now in Congress, has given up his house seat to seek election as Attorney General of New York State. A key member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Rep. Javits defended the Zionist cause and opposed administration policies he felt were harmful to Israel.

Herbert Zelenko, a Jew who is contesting for the seat vacated by Rep. Javits, is a Democrat. Zelenko has already indicated his interest in Israel by sending a pledge to the American Zionist Committee for Public Affairs. He pledged that, if elected, he would oppose the Republican policy of shipping arms to Arab League states.

In Chicago, Rep. Sidney R. Yates, Democrat, finds himself, a Jew, opposed by another Jew. His Republican rival is Ralph L. Goodman. Rep. Yates served as a U.S. Navy officer during World War II. As a member of Congress, Rep. Yates gained acclaim by saving the Jewish naval officer, Hyman Rickover, from enforced retirement. Rickover was the inventor of the atomic submarine but top brass passed him by when promotions were handed out. Retirement would have been mandatory. But Rep. Yates' intervention brought about the promotion of Rickover to the rank of admiral. Rep. Yates also succeeded in restoring the job of a young Jewish Naval veteran who was recently fired as a "security risk" because he helped transport Jewish refugees to Palestine in 1947.

A Jew in Indiana is opposing Rep. Charles A. Halleck, of Indiana, Republican Floor Leader. James H. Berg, a Democrat, has fought an uphill campaign against Halleck, one of the men closest to President Eisenhower. Other races

Short Of Success

We recently received a statement from the Republican National Committee which we found interesting and valid, but it was closer to being an understatement than a statement. We found no quarrel with any of the facts involved—the quotation of American aid to Israel for the current year as $40,000,000, the encouragement of German reparations settlements, and the condemnation of the Soviet Union for persecution of Zionists. But we were aroused by such facts as Secretary of the State Dulles' appeal on March 25, 1954 to both Jordan and Israel to maintain peace in the disturbing border situation and by President Eisenhower's subsequent appeal to both Arab States and Israel to avoid the use of force in settling their differences.

The Republican National Committee includes these last and several similar items as actions taken in Israel's favor. But, in view of the growing crisis in the Middle East these are rather passive actions indeed. The administration has been seeking, ever since Britain evacuated the Suez Canal Zone, to arrive at some agreement with Egypt involving military aid, but Egypt has refused. The United States insists that any arms she gives will be provided to the Middle East nations on the condition that such arms not be used for aggression.

The United States may, in all good faith, believe that any arms granted to Jordan or Syria or Iraq or Egypt will not be used against Israel. It is time, however, to replace good faith with action. The Security Council of the United Nations has before it at this moment a request by Israel to consider Egypt's interference with Israel-bound shipping in the Suez Canal. On September 28 Egypt illegally halted and detained the Israel vessel S. S. Bat Galim and subsequently claimed that the ship had fired upon inhabitants of the Red Sea coast of Egypt. The only arms on board the Bat Galim was the captain's pistol.

Such violations by Egypt have been going on for three years. No sanctions have been imposed upon Egypt, nor have any pressures been exerted by the Western powers to end this situation. The Israel-Egyptian Mixed Armistice Commission, at its first October meeting, called for an immediate cessation of Egyptian aggression, which, in addition to Suez violations, includes repeated infiltrations from the Gaza Strip. The Mixed Armistices Commission noted that such aggression has seriously multiplied since Britain's evacuation.

These facts indicate that our government has room for some action in the Middle East situation. This is not meant as a specific criticism of any administration action or policy. It is meant merely to underline the fact that such actions stop far short of reality. We might add that these sentiments have been expressed this week by leaders of sixteen Jewish groups who protested to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles against arming the Arab States so long as they refuse to make peace with Israel. If, however, our government insists on arming the Arab States, the Jewish leaders urged that the United States seek to maintain the balance of power in the Middle East by extending to Israel the same kind of military and political agreements that have already been offered the Arab states.

The memorandum further advocated efforts to improve the "intolerable economic, social and cultural conditions in the Arab states and extensions to them of human rights which are now wholly or partially denied to them." The Outlook seconds these suggestions.

Dual Occasion

One of the outstanding events in this community will take place next Tuesday evening, when the College of Jewish Studies combines its second annual convocation with a celebration of the American Jewish Tercentenary. A truly remarkable program has been arranged for the evening and we feel it is entirely appropriate that this community's initial observance of the Tercentenary should come as a part of our educational life.

The College of Jewish Studies, now completing its second year as a most important function of the Council on Jewish Education, has taken its place here as an instrument of furthering the Jewish ideal of scholarship and learning on a mature level. This is one of the ideals which has played such a vigorous role in the growth and progress of the American-Jewish community during its three hundred years of life.

Tuesday night's celebration is, therefore, a very proper combination of occasions. To mark the event, an address will be presented by Dr. Solomon Grayzel, editor of the Jewish Publication Society of America and a graduate of the Jewish Theological Seminary. The address will be the climax of a program which will be both colorful and meaningful and will include an academic procession. The evening's program will be geared at all times to emphasize the important role of education in American-Jewish life.

We are certain that most members of the community will share our enthusiasm for the nature of this program and will wish to participate in the evening's ceremonies and hear one of the nation's leading Jewish scholars.

Worthwhile Parade

Among the organizations in our midst, there is one which functions in its own quiet, masculine fashion, seldom seeking to detract from its feminine colleagues of the club world. We refer, of course, to the Jewish War Veterans, which once a year come to the community with their program, seeking support and public interest. The JWV's annual Parade of Stars, which takes place this Sunday evening at the Syria Mosque, represents that group's only fund-raising venture.

Out of this single enterprise, the Veterans' must collect sufficient monies to carry out an ambitious and constant program. Incidentally, that program will be multiplied for the coming year now that two new veterans' hospitals have been opened in this geographical areas. This brings a total of four such institutions which receive regular attention from the JWV. Members of the Pittsburgh Posts of JWV visit these hospitals weekly, distributing to patients cigarettes and like incidental items. In addition to this visiting program, the Veterans group offers a great variety of services to veterans, their families and dependents.

The Jewish War Veterans pride themselves on these services which include expert professional advice and counsel for claims, insurance and hospitalization. Post members also serve as liaison between members of the armed forces and their families. They mail holiday packages overseas, provide entertainment for hospitalized veterans, secure a variety of gifts for both veterans and servicemen—and numerous other services which add to the well-being of both service man and veteran. The JWV has made a niche for itself in this town as a participant in numerous programs and community undertakings, adding at all times the "patriotic" touch.

The Parade of Stars will feature outstanding stars of the entertainment world, headed by noted comedian and m.c., Jan Murray. We trust this plea will succeed in emphasizing that Sunday's Parade is no ordinary event, but one deserving our sincere support.

Young Adults Plan Seminars On Tercentenary Celebration

Young Adults, active in the programs of the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies and the United Jewish Fund, will devote the annual Fall seminars which have proven so popular in the past to the commemoration of the American Jewish Tercentenary celebration.

The Young Adult seminars this year will be titled "300 Years of Jewish Impact On The American Scene," and will emphasize the experiences and contributions of the Jews in America during the three centuries beginning with 1654.

The annual seminar series, sponsored by the Committee On Problems Of Contemporary Jewish Life of the Young Adult group, will begin Tuesday evening, November 9, and will be continued on subsequent Tuesday evenings through November 7. Mrs. Lillian Friedberg, executive director of the Jewish Community Relations Council, will discuss the theme "Jews And The Democratic Ideal" at the first seminar.

"The Spirit Of Intellectual Exploration" will be the topic of Rabbi Phillip Frankel of Temple Emanuel on November 16, and the following week, November 23, Dr. Maurice Taylor, executive director of the Fund and Federation, will talk on the theme "Philanthropy As A Motivating Force."

The final session on November 30 will be addressed by Dr. Seymour J. Cohen of the B'nai Israel Synagogue. His topic will be "Jews In Business, Industry And Labor."

To provide historical content and background for the seminars, Chairman E. Robert Marcus is urging registrants for the series to attend the Tuesday, November 2, program of the College of Jewish Studies and hear Dr. Solomon Grayzel, Jewish historian, deliver an address, "On The Threshold Of Our Fourth Century."

Mizrachi Convention Slated For November

The 34th annual National Convention of the Mizrachi Organization of America will be held in Atlantic City Nov. 17-21, Rabbi Mordecai Kirshblum, national president, has announced.

More than 800 delegates from all parts of the United States and Canada are expected to attend the assembly, which will mark the fortieth anniversary of the establishment of the American Mizrachi movement. They "will be charged with the task of making major decisions on Mizrachi policy for one of the most critical periods in the life of the State of Israel, as well as on urgent problems facing the religious Zionist movement," Rabbi Kirshblum said.

"The growing threat to Israel's security inherent in the stubborn refusal of the American State Department to reconsider its determination to arm the aggressive and war-like Arab states will require unprecedented courage and determination on the part of American Zionists," he added.

B'nai B'rith Will Celebrate 111th Anniversary With Ball

B'nai B'rith officers and committeemen will hold their gala Anniversary Supper Dance in the Grand Ball Room of the William Penn Hotel on Oct. 30.

Civic leaders and friends of the B'nai B'rith will help celebrate the 111th Anniversary of the oldest Jewish organization in the United States. Dress will be informal, and guests will dance to the music of Sammy Walters and his orchestra.

Supper will be served at midnight from tables set with individual birthday cakes.

"Anniversary Babies", infants born in Pittsburgh hospitals throughout the evening, will qualify for prizes from the B'nai B'rith, regardless of race, creed, or color.

The program to which the proceeds of the Ball will be applied include the B'nai B'rith Youth Organization, Hillel Foundation, the Anti-Defamation League and Aid to Israel.

The organization also supports aid to hospitalized veterans, vocational guidance and rehabilitation and non-sectarian charity hospitals.

Abraham Pervin is chairman of the dance with Herman Greenberg as co-chairman. Others on the committee are Mrs. Vesta Litman, chairwoman; Mrs. Julius Diamondstone co-chairwoman; A. Morris Ginsburg, ticket chairman, and Max Applebaum, publicity chairman. Assisting the committee are Dr. I. Binstock, president and representative of the Men's Pittsburgh Council of B'nai B'rith, and Mrs. Saul Bernstein, president and representative of the Women's Pittsburgh Council of B'nai B'rith.

Additional information may be obtained by contacting A. Morris Ginsburg in the Plaza Building or by phoning Atlantic 1-6534 or Hazel 1-6676.

Full Citizen Rights Restored By Court

NEW YORK, (JTA)—After five years of litigation instituted by the American Jewish Congress, the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia has restored full citizenship rights to Morris Mendelsohn, a naturalized American who had been involuntarily stranded in Israel from 1936 to 1953.

The action by the American Jewish Congress sought to test the constitutionality of a section of the Nationality Act of 1940 that deprives a naturalized U.S. citizen of his nationality if he resides abroad continuously for more than five years. This section of the Nationality Act has no application to native-born citizens.

The case involved Morris Mendelsohn, who was born in Poland and acquired U.S. citizenship in 1923. In 1936, he left for Palestine to manage orange groves owned by his father. In 1941, he sought to return to this country but was unable to do so because of lack of funds and wartime transportation difficulties. At the conclusion of the war, Mendelsohn was prevented from returning due to the serious illness of his wife. By the time she recovered, the State Department cancelled his passport under the Nationality Act of 1940 and refused to admit him to this country.

Effect Of Suez Pact On Israel's Security Discussed In England

LONDON, (JTA)—Great Britain's Minister of State, Anthony Nutting, has been facing a barrage of questions in the British Parliament regarding guarantees of Israel's safety following the Anglo-Egyptian accord on the Suez Canal. Mr. Nutting had signed the agreement on behalf of the British Government.

Clement Attlee, former Prime Minister and head of the Opposition, asked what steps were being taken to reassure "the Government of Palestine" who had considered it an important point that there should be British troops in Egypt. Now that the troops were being taken away, he went on to ask, had the Government considered giving any guarantee to "Palestine" such as those she had given to Iraq and "Transjordan."

Nutting Answers

In reply, Mr. Nutting stated: "The Foreign Secretary has been in communication with the Israel Ambassador to London and has handed him a memorandum giving him full assurances regarding the agreement with Egypt."

Emanuel Shinwell, Labor M. P., asked whether the Canal would be made free to the shipping of all nations. Mr. Nutting recalled, in his reply, that the Foreign Secretary Sir Anthony Eden had made it clear in debate on the accord that the government hoped that the agreement, when signed, would lead to a gradual improvement of British relations and general Middle Eastern relations.

Hopes For Improvement

"We cannot negotiate all these things at once," he added. "I hope that as a result of the agreement, the climate will improve and the general situation in the Middle East will improve, so that we may also improve in this respect." When Mr. Shinwell asked for more definite assurances about freedom of passage, he was told by the Minister of State that the agreement was about the Canal Zone Base, and not about the Canal.

Clement Davies, Liberal Party leader, said: "While appreciating the limitations of this agreement, had not the government asked for some guarantees that this international highway would be kept open for all international shipping without any interference by the Egyptian Government?"

Mr. Nutting answered him: "I understood the feeling of the House in this matter, but this agreement is essentially limited to the future of the Canal Zone and it is in that respect that we have obtained certain undertakings and guarantees. The situation to which you refer arose from the war between the Arab states and Israel, and not from the former British occupation of military installations in the Canal Zone."

MRS. LOUIS SACKS who is president of Yeshiva PTA which is holding a luncheon on Nov. 7.

Desegregation Leads To Hate Group Drives

NEW YORK, (JTA)—Public school desegregation, resulting from the Supreme Court's decision last May, has become a lively topic for organizing and fund-raising by professional racists and their hate groups, according to the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The League said that a survey conducted through its 26 regional offices showed a mushrooming of new racist groups, particularly in the South, all of them brandishing white supremacy doctrines. At the same time, they are linking the desegregation issue with anti-Semitic themes, blaming Jewish groups for having "subverted" the Supreme Court, the survey noted.

Best known among the new crop of race agitators because of his widely publicized activities in Maryland and Washington, D. C., says the ADL report, is Bryant W. Bowles, 34-year-old ex-Marine sergeant who organized the National Association for the Advancement of White People. He claims more than 30,000 members, each of whom pays at least five dollars annual dues.

His organizational newsletter, called the National Forum, demonstrates Bowles' kinship with the commercial hate movement in this country, says ADL. It is filled with anti-Semitic articles reprinted from the leaflets and publications of the long established cabals of professional Jew-haters. Bowles is now under indictment on two conspiracy counts.

Aid To Israel Urged

LOS ANGELES, (JTA)—Resolutions urging President Eisenhower to call a peace meeting between Israel and the Arab states and asking that arms shipments to the Arab states by the United States be halted, were adopted at the annual meeting of the Los Angeles Jewish National Fund.

Arabs Continue Spinning More Tangled Yarns About Israel

By RINNA GROSSMAN

Every now and then, a myth-puncturing mood descends upon us. We reach a peak of irritation with several contemporary political legends and our desire to clarify the murky record and re-establish truth threatens to overcome us. Perhaps it would be well now to take advantage of such a special mood and try to put two and two together in terms of one of the most highly favored Arab myths concerning Israel.

First of all, the myth itself: that Israel deliberately and recurrently refuses to abide by the decisions of the United Nations. This is a colorful and effective accusation worth examining carefully. To begin with, UN resolutions are recommendations. With the exception of decisions made by the Security Council and the International Court, all others are neither legally binding nor in any way enforceable. The very substance of the Arab lie therefore is easily destroyed. But since these are persistent though baseless allegations, it might be pertinent to mention here that a great many member-nations have actually refused to act on UN recommendations, to say nothing of those states which managed to prevent the passage of resolutions unfavorable to them.

Now, back to the Arabs and Israel. On November 29, 1947, one of the most celebrated and important UN decisions (that which decided the partition of Palestine) was passed. It was almost immediately flaunted—both by the British, who ignored the resolution's specific demands that no member nations do anything whatsoever to hinder its implementation—and by the Arabs, who replied to this request by open aggression.

The Arabs, of course, proceeded, with reckless disregard for logic, to claim that Israel had violated the partition decision by going beyond those boundaries allotted her on that fateful November day. Apart from everything else, this is an extraordinary cynical claim, for seven years ago, when the Jewish State was first established, the Arab states banded together to war against her. The war went badly for them and they were pushed beyond the borders of the new-born state. Defeated, they said in effect, "what matter that we forced the Israelis to push us this far. Let them now return to their pre-war borders." They have also managed to lose sight of the fact that the violated (by them) and thus no longer viable UN decision on partition was superseded by the Mixed Armistice Agreements—Frankensteins of Arab creation—and that even if Israel wanted to diminish herself (a strange request to be made to a sovereign state), she could no longer do so save in defiance of the Mixed Armistice Agreements, still vitally in force.

The Arab myth extends itself, of course, to the matter of the Arab "refugees." Here, too, they cry shrilly that Israel has violated a UN decision. The truth: Resolution 194 (III) which dealt with the question of the Palestinian Arabs who fled their homes, explicitly stated that return of these now-homeless Arabs be made contingent upon (a) their attitude towards the State of Israel, and (b) the proven practicality of the venture. It would seem to us that these words clearly imply that Israel, herself, must be permitted to ascertain either of these conditions.

But the myth persists. Somehow the Arabs manage to spread the story that Israel holds the verdict and the suggestions of the UN in contempt.

Nov. 1 Institute Day Slated By Conference

Institute Day will be conducted by the Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations Nov. 1 at the Studio Room of the Y. Discussion will begin at 9:45 a.m. and end at 3 p.m.

Information will be given on effective methods of securing proper publicity, and how to set up interesting and diversified programs will be discussed by a panel consisting of Mrs. Betty Taitz, Mrs. Wilfred Finegold and Mrs. M. A. Karlin, with Mrs. Harry Lefkowitz as moderator. The responsibility of volunteers in community organizations will be another topic.

There will also be a luncheon, for which Mrs. Herbert Solomon, HAZel 1-6594, is taking reservations.

Buloff and Mollie Picon Will Appear at Bond Lunch

Joseph Buloff, noted Broadway actor, whose portrayal of "Mr. Pincus of Pincus Pines" was a highlight of the Mollie Goldberg Television show this summer, will join comedy star Mollie Picon, as guest, at the "Luncheon with the Stars" to be held by the Tri-State Women's Division for Israel Bonds at the Gateway Plaza Restaurant Nov. 8. ## Don't Let Politics Tip the Scales of Justice!

Three of the sitting Judges of the Superior Court of Pennsylvania are candidates to succeed themselves on November 2nd. Over 500 Allegheny County lawyers and the Pennsylvania Bar Association have endorsed these Judges as being eminently qualified to continue on the bench.

Judges whose competence and integrity have been endorsed by the bar should be given bipartisan support, regardless of their party affiliation at the time of their elevation to the bench. This is known as the sitting judge principle, advocated by all persons interested in good government.

Hon. CHESTER H. RHODES has served twenty years as a Judge of the Superior Court. He was elected in 1934 and reelected in 1944. He has been President Judge of the Superior Court since 1947.

Hon. F. CLAIR ROSS is seeking his second term, after ten years of service on the Superior Court. Previously, he was Treasurer and Auditor of the Commonwealth. He is past commander of District 26, American Legion.

Hon. ROBERT E. WOODSIDE served as Judge of the Dauphin County Common Pleas Court from 1941 until his appointment to the post of Attorney General in 1951. He has the nomination of both major parties.

These Judges deserve your support, whatever your party affiliation. To keep the courts free of political influence, vote for Judges Chester H. Rhodes, F. Clair Ross and Robert E. Woodside!

If, on a voting machine, you wish to vote a straight Republican ticket except for Judge Rhodes and Judge Ross, you can do so by pulling down the straight Republican party handle as far as it will go and allow it to return to its original position. Then turn to the left the black button under the names of the three nominees for the Superior Court. Then go down on the Superior Court columns and turn to the right the button under the names of Chester H. Rhodes, F. Clair Ross and Robert E. Woodside.

Soviet Envoy Speaks At Tel Aviv Assembly

TEL AVIV, (JTA)—The Israel-Soviet Union Friendship Congress opened recently with Soviet Charge d'Affaires M. Fomine as the main speaker. M. Fomine expressed his government's regret that a delegation of Russians had been denied visas by the Israel Government to attend the parley. Other speakers at the meeting attacked the Israel Government's decision in this matter.

A spokesman for Israel's Foreign Ministry, replying to the criticism, said that his government has offered to permit Soviet delegates to the Communist-sponsored Friendship Congress to enter the country on condition that they also visit places recommended by the government. He revealed that the Soviet Union has not replied to this proposal.

Jewish Groups Urge U. S. To Reconsider Middle East Policy

NEW YORK, (JTA) — The American Government has urged in resolutions adopted at two huge meetings here to reconsider its current policy in the Middle East and not to send any arms to the Arab states as long as they refuse to enter peace negotiations with Israel.

One of the meetings was arranged by the American Zionist Committee for Public Affairs in the Commodore Hotel, where 3,000 people heard prominent Zionist leaders criticize the present Middle East policy of the State Department. The other, attended by more than 1,000 people, was arranged jointly by the Jewish Labor Committee and the Trade Union Council for Israel at the Hotel Biltmore and was addressed by prominent American Jewish and non-Jewish leaders.

The resolution adopted at the mass rally at the Commodore Hotel, pointed out that the "Arab states have again rejected the offer of peace tendered by the State of Israel and, as reply thereto, have intensified their economic and political war against Israel." The resolution expressed protest "against the premature and unilateral supply of arms to these states" on the ground that such action will not promote the cause of peace or contribute to military defense against aggressive Communism, but will, on the contrary, delay peace, stimulate Arab aggression against the State of Israel, provoke regional conflict."

"We urge the American Government," the resolution said, "to reconsider and review its current policy in the Middle East and that it: 1. Suspend the sending of military aid to the Arab states pending a declaration of their readiness to join, definitely and without ambiguity, in the defense of the Free World against Communist aggression; 2. Utilize the maximum defense potential of Israel, the one present stable democracy in the region, in the planning of the defenses in the Middle East; and, 3. Use its good offices to persuade the Arab states to cease their boycotts and blockades of Israel, particularly the blockade by Egypt of passage through the Suez Canal to ships carrying goods to and from Israel."

Principal speakers at the meeting were: Louis Lipsky, chairman of the American Zionist Committee for Public Affairs; Rabbi Mordecai Kirshblum, president of the Mizrahi Organization of America; Rabbi Irving Miller, chairman of the American Zionist Council; Dr. Emanuel Neumann, chairman of the national executive committee of the Zionist Organization of America; Mrs. Herman Shulman, president of Hadassah, and Baruch Zuckerman, leader of the Labor Zionist movement.

The principal address will be made by Dr. Solomon Grayzel, editor of the Jewish Publication Society of America. Dr. Grayzel's theme, which will cap a colorful ceremony and program, will be "On the Threshold of Our Fourth Century."

The musical program will feature the a cappella Choir of the Taylor Alderdice High School and a string trio.

William Young of the Carnegie Tech Drama Department will read documents of American Jewish history including the famous exchange of letters between George Washington and the Hebrew Congregation in Newport, R. I., as well as "The New Colossus" by Emma Lazarus which has been inscribed on a bronze tablet at the foot of the Statue of Liberty.

Zionism And Israel Attacked By Toynbee

NEW YORK, (AJP)—Arnold J. Toynbee, held up by many as one of the greatest contemporary historians, surprised the literary world this week when it was revealed from the latest volumes of his work, "A Study of History," that he was an antagonist of Zionism and Israel.

In his discourse on "Nationalism," Toynbee charges that the Zionists ruthlessly expelled the Palestinian Arabs and he compares this "crime," as he calls it, with that of the Spanish expulsion and the genocide of the Nazis.

Stressing religion as the major theme in his latest volumes, published by the Oxford University Press, and clinging fanatically to New Testament doctrine, Toynbee discounts Judaism as a world religion. To him, there exist only four high and worthy world faiths: Christianity, Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism. Providence has given us these four religions, he says, which bring mankind into touch with a living and loving God. He leaves the Mother Faith, Judaism, completely out of the picture.

That Toynbee, in these his latest works, has fallen prey to narrow Christian dogmatism becomes evident from his oft-repeated statement that Christianity does not merely affirm that "God is love," but that "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son." Here he speaks like a fanatic missionary.

The unbiased student, noting Toynbee's failure to grasp the historical processes within our times, especially those relating to the rebirth of the State of Israel, and considering his almost dogmatic and evangelic acceptance of the Gospels, immediately loses the respect usually due an unbiased historian whose duty it is to record history on the basis of facts and reality.

Variety Of Jewish Leaders Joins In Tercentenary Fete

NEW YORK, (AJP)—The Tercentenary Dinner at the Astor Hotel brought together, for the first time in American Jewish history, the greatest diversified array of Jewish leaders. No other event in American Jewish life could have brought together such an assembly of leaders representing varied and opposing points of view. This in itself marks the American Jewish Tercentenary as the most important historical occasion in American Jewish life. Every facet of Jewish life was represented, including that of the anti-Israel Council of Judaism.

The Hebrew Commonwealth And The United States

By OSCAR S. STRAUS

PART VI

Facts Not Recorded

It is remarkable, that of the many historians who have written so ably and minutely of the history of the United States, none should have observed in his writings the relationship between our republic and the commonwealth of the Hebrews. This is especially true in the light of the earliest constitutions of several of the New England colonies, expressly framed upon the model of the Mosaic code as a guide, and of the frequent references thereto made by the ministers in their political sermons, who constantly drew their civil creed from the history of those times, and held up this ancient form of government as a model inspired under the guidance of the Most High.

Oscar S. Straus (1850-1926), who served as Minister Plenipotentiary to Turkey under Presidents Grover Cleveland and William McKinley, wrote a small but vitally important book on "The Origin of Republican Form of Government." Out of print and now difficult to get, it was first published by G. P. Putnam and Sons of New York in 1885. In honor of the American Jewish Tercentenary, the publishers have given the American Jewish Press the right to republish the most important parts of the book.

THE AMERICAN JEWISH OUTLOOK is happy to present to its readers the sixth of a series of twelve articles from Mr. Straus' illuminating work—EDITOR.

The distinguished Jonathan Mayhew, the divine whom Robert Treat Paine styled "the father of civil and religious liberty in Massachusetts and in America," who suggested to James Otis the idea of a committee of correspondence, a measure of great efficiency in producing concert of action between the colonies, and who as early as 1750 delivered a discourse against unlimited submission and non-resistance, a sermon which was characterized as "The Morning Gun of the Revolution," in a later discourse delivered in Boston on May 23, 1766, on the "Repeal of the Stamp Act," says: "God gave Israel a King (or absolute monarchy) in his anger, because they had not sense and virtue enough to like a free commonwealth, and to have himself for their king,—where the spirit of the Lord is there is liberty,—and if any miserable people on the continent or isles of Europe be driven in their extremity to seek a safe retreat from slavery in some far distant clime—O let them find one in America."

Israel Polity

Samuel Langdon, D.D., the president of Harvard College, who, through the influence of John Hancock, was installed in that office as the successor of Samuel Locke, and who, afterwards, in 1788, was a member of the New Hampshire convention when the constitution came before that body for adoption, in his election sermon delivered before the "Honorable Congress of Massachusetts Bay" on the 31st of May, 1775, taking as his text the passage in Isaiah, 1, 26, "And I will restore thy judges as at the first," etc., delivered at a most eloquent discourse, wherein he traces the history of government from the first recorded beginning, and defines its functions and prerogatives with a logic that proves him to have been well versed in the doctrines of civil liberty as handed down through the writings of Sidney, Milton, Hoadley, and his eminent predecessor Locke. These are his words: "The Jewish government, according to the original constitution which was divinely established, if considered merely in a civil view, was a perfect republic. And let them who cry out the divine right of kings consider, that the form of government which had a proper claim to a divine establishment was so far from including the idea of a king, that it was a high crime for Israel to ask to be in this respect like other nations, and when they were thus gratified, it was rather

Israel Envoy Framed In Poland, Ex-Chief Of Security Reveals

NEW YORK (JTA) — Charges that anti-Semitism existed on high governmental levels in Poland and that three employees of the Polish legation in Warsaw were framed on espionage charges so that Poland could demand the recall of Dr. Arie Kubovy, Israel envoy to Warsaw during three period of the Slansky trials in Prague, were made here by Jozef Swiatlo, former deputy director of the Polish security forces, who has since defected and fled to haven in the United States.

At a press conference at the office of the Voice of America,

Mr. Swiatlo said that at the time he examined the three men—Arie Lerner, Abraham Futterwass and Svyjic Ausubel — and was convinced that they were innocent, but that when he reported this to the Vice Minister of the Security Department he was told the men had to be convicted because Prague had accused Dr. Kubovy of espionage and that Poland could not take a "back seat" in this affair.

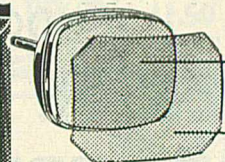

The ex-Communist security officer said that the Joint Distribution Committee in Poland was also framed on espionage charges. He said a special Soviet representative was attached to the Polish security bureau to watch the JDC activities.

UJF Workers Prepare For Major Fund Drive Of Cash Mobilization

Members of the United Jewish Fund Cash Mobilization teams will contact more than 3,000 outstanding, urging payments on outstanding pledges, during the coming weeks.

Hyman Moravitz S. J. Noven

Objective of the Fall push for cash by UJF workers is the securing of $400,000 for substantial payments to Fund beneficiaries in Israel, Europe and the United States.

Ernest Nachman Nat Elbaum

The Cash Mobilization effort is headed by David Busis, who this week will return from Israel to take over the leadership of this major Fund program. The leadership of the United Jewish Fund is depending upon this effort to carry forth its vital program of continuing aid.

Emphasis to this annual undertaking was given at the nationwide conference held by the United Jewish Appeal in Cincinnati last week-end. Those who attended the Cincinnati conference, including the Pittsburgh delegation, were told that Israel's security is threatened by the re-arming of Arab nations, as well as by the possibility of another wave of immigration from North Africa by Jews who may be the object of heightening terrorism if they remain in Morocco and in Tunisia.

United Jewish Fund campaigners who are participating in the UJF Cash Mobilization effort include:

Abe Banchek, H. M. Caplan, Joseph Spokane, Harry Anisman, Herman Fineberg, Isaac Bloom, Walter Burke, M. A. Marcus, William Kann, Paul Kossis, Sam Bluestone, Morris Paul, Morris Rosenstein, Bernard Levaur, Sam Brouman, Harold A. as a just punishment for their folly. Every nation, when able and agreed, has a right to set up over itself any form of government which to it may appear most conducive to its common welfare. The civil policy of Israel is doubtless an excellent general model, allowing for some peculiarities; at least, some principal laws and orders of it may be copied in more modern establishments."

By a special vote Dr. Langdon's sermon was ordered to be printed and sent to each minister in the colony and to each member of the Congress. What effects such words as these had upon the minds of the people in general in preparing them for independence, as well as upon the founders of our republic, each and all of whom doubtless read this sermon, is scarcely a matter of conjecture when we take into consideration that he was not a ripe scholar occupying the most important literary position in America, as President of Harvard College, but one of the foremost ministers and pulpit orators, as well as an acknowledged authority in the science of government.

INSIDE ISRAEL: Israel is determined to attract more tourists from the United States . . . Although statistics on expenditures by tourists in Israel have not yet been compiled for this summer season, it has been established that tourism has made a relatively small contribution to the country's economy . . . Altogether tourists spent $800,000 on hotel accommodations during the months of April-June, the peak of the tourist season . . . The ten first-class hotels in Israel were occupied only to 46 percent of their capacity in April, which is the leading tourist month . . . During the same month, the 41 second-class hotels were occupied only to the extent of 33 percent of their capacity . . . In May and June these figures were even lower . . . This despite the fact that the price of a room and board at the highest class hotel ranged from $6.00 to $14.00 a day, in the second class about $5.00 per day and in the third class less than $4.00 . . . The slow tourist season came as an added disappointment to the already sorely tried hotel owners . . . Despite the abolition of controls on hotel rentals, the hotels did not raise their prices . . . When controls were removed, the hotel owners agreed not to raise prices unless compelled to do so by sharp rise in costs . . . This agreement was prompted by a desire to stimulate and encourage tourism . . . Now, that it evident that tourism was not attracted by these measures, some hotel owners have given notice of their intention to raise prices.

JEWISH GEMS: American-born Jews, who cannot read Yiddish, may now read the best of what has appeared in Yiddish literature during the past 50 years . . . "A Treasury of Yiddish Stories," edited by Irwing Howe and Eliezer Greenberg and published by Viking Press, this week made its appearance in this country and is the first book of its kind ever published in the United States . . . In it the reader will find an excellent collection of about 50 short stories written by the best Yiddish writers from Mendele Mocher Seform and Sholem Aleichem to I Bashevis-Singer and Chaim Grade . . . The names of the editors testify best to the selection of the short stories for inclusion into this anthology . . . Irving Howe, an Associate Professor of English at Brandeis University, is a well-known American critic . . . Eliezer Greenberg is one of the finest Yiddish poets in this country and the author of several books of poetry and criticism . . . The translators include Ludwig Lewisohn, Alfred Kazin, Maurice Samuel, Meyer Lewin and others who are themselves well-known authors . . . In addition to the translated Yiddish stories, the editors have prefaced the book with an introduction which is in itself a fundamental essay on the mainstream of Yiddish literature . . . Thus the "Treasury of Yiddish Stories" can be properly considered a top-notch job, even though some well-known Yiddish short story writers—like Kobrin, Libin, Tolush and others—are not represented in the volume . . . This defect is probably due to the fact that not all good Yiddish writers can be squeezed into one volume . . . It is hoped that a second volume will make its appearance soon . . . The "Treasury of Yiddish Stories" certainly fills a need of long standing—that of American-born Jews to get acquainted with the best produced in Yiddish literature . . . This can be seen from the fact that works of Sholem Aleichem, Sholem Asch, I. I. Singer and others translated into English earlier have had a very good sale . . . Now the horizon has been widened, and readers interested in Yiddish literature will get a wider perspective of the gifted writing in Yiddish by acquiring the "Treasury of Yiddish Stories" . . . The book deserves to be in every Jewish home and makes an excellent gift for Jewish friends.

A number of New York constituencies are being fought for by Jews pitted against fellow Jews and non-Jews. Carl Brodsky is making a bid in the Rochester area for the seat now held by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating, Republican. New Yorkers up for re-election include the following, all Democrats: Lester Holtzman, Abraham Muller, Sidney A. Fine, Isidore Dollinger, Arthur G. Klein, and Emanuel Celler. One Democrat, Rep. Louis B. Heller, resigned from Congress recently to become a judge.

The chairmanship of the House Judiciary Committee would go to Rep. Celler if the Democrats succeed in winning a majority of House seats. Rep. Celler is a pioneer in the struggle for fair immigration laws and is a leading advocate of civil liberties.

Should all Jewish candidates win, the number of Jews in Congress will be the largest in the history. Particular interest is attached to the Oregon Senate campaign waged by Neuberger. Prior to Sen. Lehman, the last Jew to serve in the Senate was Guggenheim, who represented Colorado from 1907 to 1913.

David Levy Yulee was the first Jew to serve in the Senate. He represented Florida from 1845 to 1851 and again from 1855 to 1861. Before Florida became a state, Yulee served as delegate to the House of Representatives.

Other Jews who served in the Senate were Judah P. Benjamin, who later was a Confederate leader, 1853-1861; Benjamin F. Jonas, Louisiana, 1879-1885; Joseph Simon, Oregon, 1897-1903 and Isador Rayner, Maryland, 1905-1912.

Curtaineers Announce Dates

The Irene Kaufmann Settlement Curtaineers will present "Time of Your Life," a comedy in three acts, by William Saroyan, in the Theresa L. Kaufmann Theatre, on November 4, 5, 6, 12 and 13. The cast of 27 includes most of the outstanding members of the Curtaineers group.

YOUR NEXT GOVERNOR'S STAND ON FEPC

On October 9, 1954 the State Council for a Pennsylvania FEPC directly and specifically questioned candidates for Governor; Republican Lloyd H. Wood, and Democrat George M. Leader, whether, if elected, they would urge the legislature to adopt an FEPC law establishing an independent, paid Commission with adequate budget, power to conduct educational programs, investigate complaints, set up a conciliation service and compel enforcement of the law through the courts.

Both party platforms broadly endorse a law against discrimination in employment and have done so for the past three state elections. Twelve states already have appropriate Commissions and procedures. This election year is the time to get down to cases in Pennsylvania.

From answers to the questionnaires, from public statements and from exchange of correspondence with the candidates their respective statements of position follow:

LLOYD H. WOOD

Failed to reply to the specific questionnaire but in a press conference reported in January, 1954 and in an exchange of correspondence in May, 1954 stated he favors an educational law with no enforcement powers, "I approve of every educational move in its behalf, and I feel certain that education will do the job without compulsion of the law." He will not urge the legislature to pass any law; if one is passed, he will sign it. He makes no commitment on independent Commission or adequate budget. He disapproves use of compulsory process to enforce the law.

Pennsylvania voters who seek to insure unbiased employment conditions will vote on November 2, 1954 for the candidate who offers specific solutions to the problem without fear or favor. As a bipartisan committee working for this great objective over many years we present the record and urge your informed action at the polls.

JOINT COMMITTEE

ALLEGHENY COUNTY COMMITTEE ON FAIR EMPLOYMENT, a citizens body of which leaders of the three leading religious faiths in Pittsburgh are Co-chairmen.

GEORGE M. LEADER

Favors an FEPC law which establishes an independent paid Commission with an adequate budget, with power to conduct educational programs, receive and investigate complaints, set up a conciliation service, and with compulsory procedures in state courts to enforce the law when negotiation and conciliation fail. If elected, he will urge the legislature to pass such a law and "I will use every means within the power of that office to see it is passed, and I have great confidence that if that is done it will be passed."

THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY COUNCIL ON CIVIL RIGHTS, a delegate body representing 43 civic, religious, labor and cultural organizations with a combined membership of 200,000.

Many Jews Running For Election

in which Jews are running against non-Jews include the Philadelphia battle between the incumbent Democrat, Earl Chudoff, and W. B. Carter, Jr. In Baltimore, Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, Democrat, is battling Edward C. Dukehart, Republican. A Massachusetts contest finds Jackson J. Holtz, former national commander of the Jewish War Veterans, fighting as a Democrat for a House seat.

Every Golden Ager living in the Oakland and Terrace Village areas is urged to attend the affair, which is part of a city-wide Aged Recreation project sponsored by the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies and supervised by the Irene Kaufmann Settlement.

A Thanksgiving party is also being planned for the group.

Herman Passamaneck To Be Honored Nov. 7

A triple celebration is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 7, 8:30 p.m. at the Webster Hall Hotel, when a public reception honoring Herman Passamaneck, retiring director of the YM & WHA, will be held. The reception will be preceded by a dinner of the Y Board.

Dr. J. O. Specter

The arrangements committee which includes Dr. J. O. Specter, president of the Y, Max Rogal, past president of the Y, and Harry Letwin, treasurer of the Y, has announced that the reception and dinner will pay tribute to Mr. Passamaneck and mark the completion of the successful Y Membership Campaign which was headed this year by the retiring executive director. November 7 also marks Mr. Passamaneck's 65th birthday.

This affair will offer the community an opportunity to officially welcome Arnold J. Auerbach, the new executive director of the Y.

SPORTS

By BILL WOLF

The Brandeis University athletic department is continuing to reach for new achievements and glory in the world of sports.

The latest announcement from the campus at Waltham, Mass., is that the Brandeis University basketball team will tangle in the coming campaign with LaSalle College, the NCAA champions.

The Judges will begin court practice in November to get in shape in time for the opening contest against Suffolk on December 4. Suffolk is one of the other new teams that Brandeis will play. Also new on the schedule will be Wheaton College, Worcester Tech, and the University of Massachusetts.

Other opponents will include Northeastern, Boston College, Colby, Brooklyn College, Rider, Wayne, Bowdoin, Tufts, Bates, St. Anselm's, Springfield, the University of Vermont and City College of New York.

It will be quite a feat for the judges to equal or better last season's record of 20 victories and four defeats—a campaign topped off by 14 straight triumphs. There are only five players on that squad who are still around for this year's competition.

Yeshiva University has a new assistant basketball coach. He's Marvin Hershkowitz of Brooklyn, the only basketball player in Yeshiva's history to score more than 1,000 points during his stay in college. He also holds the record for the most points scored in a single Yeshiva game, and for the highest average per game during one season.

The service of Hershkowitz will be a great assist to Bernie Sarachek, Yeshiva's director of Athletics.

It's difficult to keep track of all the various walking titles that Henry Laskau has managed to capture in his sports career. Suffice it to say that he has collected another feather for his cap.

The most recent triumph was in the national 20,000 meter walking competition held at Providence, Rhode Island. Laskau took the crown for the third consecutive year.

Laskau was representing the

Ninety-second Street YMHA of New York City.

Back in 1900 and 1904 a then young fellow named Meyer Prinstein won the hop, step and jump in the international Olympic games. Recently Prinstein was one of the former Olympic champions honored in New York's Waldorf-Astoria by the N. Y. chapter of the United States Olympians. The organization aims to help support future Olympic games.

The dinner saw a host of former stars receive citations, with many of the top figures in sports on hand for the occasion.

The Chicago Cubs recently signed a Jewish ballplayer. He's Hy Cohen of New York City, a pitcher, who played for Des Moines in the Western League during the past season. He won 16 games and lost six, and had an earned run average of 1.88.

Eyes are once again on the New York Yankees to see whether they'll do anything concrete to offset claims that they discriminate in their policy of picking athletes. The Yanks have announced that Elston Howard, Negro catcher, has been added to the roster. However, fans will remember that Howard was called up last season to train with the Yanks and then shipped back to the minors. It remains to be seen whether Howard will be on the Yankee roster when the next season begins. This could be nothing more than a maneuver to hold Howard on the team long enough to prevent any other clubs from getting him.

Our Film Folk

By LEON GUTTERMAN

HOLLYWOOD—After more than two years of preparation, "The Search," CBS Television's new weekly series based on vital research projects currently in progress at leading universities, had its premiere broadcast last Sunday.

"This new series has come about as a result of our own 'search' to find a way to discharge our keenly felt responsibility in the field of educational television," Hubbell Robinson, CBS Television vice-president, told me. "At the same time, we wanted to do it in a way that would make compelling viewing; that would constitute the kind of programming that would become a fixed habit in millions of American homes. We believe that 'The Search' can and will perform both of these missions in a superlative manner."

Irving Gitlin, CBS director of public affairs and producer of "The Search," states that each episode in the series "will open another doorway to the future as it takes viewers to a different great American educational institution each week for a close look at some of the significant research programs . . . both basic and applied . . . being conducted there." Gitlin expresses his belief that these broadcasts will be "meaningful and helpful to the American citizen and will, we hope, provide him with a better picture of his environment now and in the foreseeable future, and enable him to adjust better to that environment."

Varied Projects

The vast range of projects to be treated on "The Search" will include, among others, such dissimilar subject matter as research into child development at Dr. Milton Senn's Child Study Center at Yale; the field experiments of Cornell University's Transportation Safety Research projects; the day by day struggle for independence being waged by a French Jewish war veteran, a paraplegic at New York University's Institute for Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; a preview . . . from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology . . . of an imminent but little noticed industrial revolution heralded by the ever increasing use of automata and robots . . . machines with eyes, ears, chemical senses and "brains"; a study of San Quentin prison in cooperation with the University of California School of Criminology; the University of Texas Disaster Study project which is documenting what happens to a city when disaster strikes, and how the city rebuilds.

Also, the vital work of the Center for Field Studies of Harvard University Graduate School of Education which has analyzed 50 communities in order to determine what the scholastic needs of a community are, to help communities better their existing educational systems; the story of heart disease research being conducted by Dr. Ancel Keyes at the University of Minnesota with 300 human guinea pigs . . . approximately half of whom will die of some form of cardio-vascular disorder; and the work of the University of Arkansas Folklore Research project which is searching among the old people of the Ozarks to find and record 18th Century folk songs locked away in the mountains.

Stutterers Helped

On the premiere broadcast, "The Search" visited Wendell Johnson's famous speech clinic at the University of Iowa. Here, new ideas have been worked out which now give hope of one day eliminating stuttering from among man's afflictions. The program stresses that even more important than the million-odd Americans who now stutter is the fact that new stutters are being created each day by unknowing parents. The broadcast clearly demonstrates how stuttering comes about and how parents can prevent their children from becoming stutterers.

On "The Search" producer Gitlin has applied live television techniques to standard documentary film production. To preserve the dramatic realism of each episode, each half hour program is shot on actual location with the people involved playing themselves. There are no stars, no actors, except the scientists, teachers, students and researchers . . . the men and women who are participating in, or are directly affected by, the projects.

"The Search" represents the culmination of almost three years of planning on the part of CBS Television.

By FLORA M. ISAACS

Ever walk by a bakery in the early morning when the aroma of baking bread filled the air for half a block either way? It's an aroma seldom found in the average home today. Bread making has been taken over by commercial bakeries. We don't deny that bread making takes time, time is a precious commodity, and we'd be the last to suggest that housewives return to the twice a week production of quantities of bread at home. But an occasional excursion into bread baking has much to recommend it. There is a longing even by the housewife for a taste of home made baked goods. Every time an organization has a bake sale there is a request for contributions of home made breads.

Some breads require kneading but there are many recipes that have been simplified but still give one the satisfaction of making and eating home made delicacies. If you have been convinced that it's worthwhile to "bother," following are some excellent recipes which have been perfected in the Kellogg Home Economics Kitchen.

FINNISH BREAD (whole-wheat type)

- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cake compressed or 1 package dry granular yeast
- 1 cup warm water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 teaspoon caraway seeds

- 1 tablespoon molasses
- 1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
- 3-3 1/2 cups flour

Scald milk; add butter and let stand until butter is melted and milk cooled to lukewarm. Dissolve yeast in water; add salt, sugar, caraway seeds, molasses and All-Bran. Combine with milk. Add enough flour to make a stiff dough, mixing thoroughly. Turn dough out on a lightly floured board and knead about 10 minutes or until smooth and satiny. Place dough in a greased bowl; brush surface with melted butter; cover. Let rise in warm place (80-85°F.) until double in bulk. Turn dough out on lightly floured board; shape into a loaf and place in a greased 9 1/4 x 5 1/4-inch pan. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Bake in a moderate oven (350°F.) about 1 hour. Remove from pan; brush crust with melted butter. Makes 1 loaf.

SAVE-A-DAY ROLLS

- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 2 cups Kellogg's All-Bran
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 eggs
- 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 1 cup lukewarm water
- 6 (or more) cups sifted flour

Put shortening, sugar, Bran and salt in a large mixing bowl; add boiling water and stir until shortening is melted. Let stand until mixture is lukewarm. Add well-beaten eggs and yeast softened in the lukewarm water. Add half the flour and beat until smooth; add remaining flour and mix well. Let rise until double in bulk; punch down. Form balls of dough to fill greased muffin pans about half full. Let rise in a warm place about 2 hours or until double in bulk. Bake in a moderately hot oven (425°F.) about 15 minutes. Makes 4 dozen rolls (2 1/4 inches in diameter). After the flour is added this dough may be stored in the refrigerator until needed. Shape rolls, allow to rise and bake as directed.

DIXIE CORNBREAD

- 1 cup white cornmeal
- 3/4 cup sifted flour
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup bran
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/4 cup melted shortening

Sift cornmeal, flour, sugar, baking powder and salt together. Add bran, milk, egg and shortening. Mix until flour is absorbed. Pour into greased pan (9x9-inches) and bake in a hot oven (450°F.) about 30 minutes. Cut into 9 squares.

* * *

NUT BREAD

- 1 egg
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- 3/4 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
- 2 1/4 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 3/4 cup chopped nuts

Beat egg and sugar until light. Add milk, shortening and bran. Sift flour, salt and baking powder; combine with nuts; add to first mixture, stirring only until flour disappears. Bake in greased loaf pan (4 1/2 x 9 1/2) with wax paper on bottom in 350°F. oven about 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Candidates And Electorate Start On Tour This Week

By HARRIET COHEN

(Mrs. Cohen may be contacted at EMerson 1-8764)

Political candidates are traveling the length and breadth of the land this last important week before election to spread their party's gospel. Our fair city was not exempt from its share of political harangue. Like other doubtful towns it was descended upon by chartered plane and mobile task force. The peripatetic campaign schedules indicate how easy it is for a man to travel; speeches can be given in several different states within the same twenty-four hours.

Like campaign strategists, local travelers are combing the countryside. Among our roster of Pittsburghers on Broadway are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Rudolph of Lyndhurst Drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Apt of Woodland Rd. spent several days this week in New York.

Recent show shoppers were Mrs. Nathan Leventon of Pocusset St., Mrs. Ben Leventon of S. Linden Ave. and Mrs. Harry Kamins of Beechwood Ct.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gladstone of Wightman St. are New York visitors this week.

Back from a New York jaunt are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Amper of Lyndhurst Dr.

Mrs. Charles Feldstein of Malvern Ave. and Mrs. H. Levine of Beacon St. have returned from a long week-end in Gotham.

The beginning of November will be travel time for Mrs. Raymond Litman of Beechwood Blvd. and Mrs. Leo Kostman of Beechwood Ct. New York will be their destination.

November 4th week-end will find Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Miller of Hempstead Rd. and Mrs. Jerry Abel of Woodwell St. New York vacationists.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grossman of the Dithridge Apts. are spending several days in that same city.

Mr. and Mrs. Morry Hoffman of Mead St. were recent New York visitors.

Glancing at other spots visited by the Pittsburgh electorate we further discover that travel is not a prerogative of the candidates.

Around The Compass

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Drosnes of Columbo St. flew to Chicago this week to attend a tire convention.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Simon of McKeesport left on Sunday for a trip to the Coast.

Autumn is being enjoyed at their Fifth-Neville Apt. by Dr. and Mrs. Eric Ellenbogen after spending the summer months in Europe and Israel.

Mrs. Sidney Munter of Beacon St. is on a Hadassah speaking tour in Mansfield, O.

Mrs. Florence Fried of the Bigelow has returned from a trip to Hot Springs, Ark.

Dr. and Mrs. Al Marmins of Wellesley Ave. spent this past week-end visiting friends at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Newman of Shaw Ave. were recent week-enders in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Balter are honeymooning in Europe. Upon their return they will reside on Beacon St.

Miss Susan Jacob of Conover Rd. is visiting in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Palley have returned to their home in Miami Beach after visiting in the city with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Florence Fralin of the Coronado Apts. is visiting in Philadelphia.

Following their drive to California, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Lapiduss of Monitor St. have gone to Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Diamondstone of Webster Hall returned from a trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyer of Malvern St. are week-end visitors in Quincy, Ill.

Mrs. Arthur Stein of Bartlett St. was a week-end visitor in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Burton A. Goldsmith of Fifth Ave. spent the past week in Haddonfield, N. J. and Philadelphia visiting relatives.

Mrs. Alma Cahn of Los Angeles has been the guest of Mrs. Albert Strauss of Fifth Ave.

Mrs. Samuel Zions and son, Richard, who visited Mrs. Zions' family in Arizona are back at home on Hobart St.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Windt of Wightman St. are spending the winter in Miami Beach.

Family Visits

Mrs. Harry Epstein of the Wendover Apts. is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Aronson of Miami Beach.

Mrs. Irving Berger and children of Philadelphia are guests of Mrs. Berger's family, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Grossman of Brownsville.

Miss Sylvia Cohen, a student at Northwestern, was here for last week-end's football game and a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cohen of Linden Lane.

Wedding guests at the Cohn-Berber nuptials last Sunday included: Mrs. Bertha Walkow of Tucson, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Regal of Chicago, Miss Beatrice Levy of Jersey City, N. J., Mrs. Jack Fuller of Toronto, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cohn and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cohn of Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cohn of Youngstown, O. and 2nd Lt. Ronald S. ## Anniversary Celebrated By Country Club

On Saturday, November 6, Westmoreland Country Club will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary with a ball at the Club. Part of the evening's entertainment will be a musical stage production entitled "50-Year Cavalcade."

The original Westmoreland was founded as a golf club in 1904 by Maurice Falk, Leon Falk, Sr., Marcus Aaron, Jacob, Henry and Isaac Kaufmann and A. Leo Weil. Albert C. Lehman was the club's first president. Present officers include Benjamin B. Weinberg, president, Byron L. Foster, vice president, and Julian Ruslander, secretary.

A glimpse into the history of the Club reveals that the original golf course was comprised of six holes along the Allegheny River at Logans Ferry, Plum Township. Due to frequent floods it was necessary to secure a new site and in 1905 the Club purchased fifty acres of land adjoining the old Wilkinsburg, Verona streetcar line and opened a nine hole course. In 1907 a club house was completed and additional land was purchased which extended the golf course to eighteen holes. A quonset hut served the membership after the New Year's Day fire of 1950 until a year ago when the Club moved

HAVE YOU EVER SAID TO YOURSELF

I wish I could afford Gilbert's magnificent furniture and lamps? Well, the fact is . . . you really can! If someone tells you that Gilbert's furniture is overpriced, simply ask that person: "Have you ever been in Gilbert's?" The answer is certain to be no because anyone who has been in Gilbert's would know that Gilbert's furniture is not overpriced? For example . . . sofas of Gilbert custom quality and Gilbert styling in 87 inch length, are available at $358 at Gilbert's. Don't ever believe anyone who tells you that all tables at Gilbert's are priced $200 or $300. The truth is if you want a Gilbert table for just $24 you can have it. And, if you're told that there are no chairs at Gilbert's for less than several hundred dollars, ask the person if he has ever been in Gilbert's. If this person had ever been in Gilbert's he would know Gilbert's chair prices begin at $29.50. Let nobody deceive you. Let nobody make you believe that Gilbert lamps are never lower than $100 or $200. Gilbert's lamp prices begin at $19.50. But regardless of price the quality and styling never, never vary from Gilbert's traditional standards. So why not take the time to investigate?

B'nai B'rith Publishes Much Free Vocational Information

(EDITOR'S NOTE: To provide our readers with information on career planning, the B'nai B'rith-United Vocational and Employment Service Group Guidance Service will run a series of articles from time to time which we feel will be of importance and interest to parents, students, and others. If you have questions of a vocational nature, they will be answered in this column.)

The B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau is probably the only non-governmental publisher of occupational literature operating entirely on a public service basis. One of its publication policies is that its material be made available at nominal charges, comparable to the practice of the U. S. Government Printing Office. Another is that material be written in simple, readable English, and attractively illustrated. About 80 per cent of the publications are purchased by educational institutions in every state and in many countries. One very important phase of career planning is having up to date, concise, interesting, readable information. The B'nai B'rith has helped to solve this problem, to a great extent, by publishing information that can be put to use. Much of the material is for particular use with Jewish problems of career planning, but by and large the information can be used for general career planning. We feel that by knowing where to get concise, practical information, we can help to solve many of the vocational problems that adults, youths, and parents are confronted with daily. We will list here some of the popular publications that the B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau has released in recent years. For further information, call the B'nai B'rith-UVES Group Guidance Service at GRant 1-1757.

In February 1946, the Bureau released its book, "Careers in Retail Business Ownership," by Robert Shostek. The first eight chapters deal generally with the subject and the 35 additional chapters treat as many different fields of retail business. There is an abundance of literature on sales work and other employee jobs in retailing. The information contained in these publications is ideal for career planning for the man or woman who seeks knowledge on the retail field.

The Career News is the eight-page bi-monthly periodical of the B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau. Many articles in the Career News are designed to help the young person considering a college education. It presents a detailed picture, not offered elsewhere in such comprehensive form, of training in various college curricula. Such articles as "Jobs with Uncle Sam" appear, which inform young people of opportunities in Federal Government employment and also direct attention to a wide range of occupation found in private employment. A regular column, "Advice to the Jobborn" answers questions of general interest and value. Just about every important phase of career planning is covered in the Career News.

The Bureau has released a number of interesting booklets in cartoon form. These not only deal with extremely important aspects of career planning, but are presented in interesting picture cartoon form. Such booklets as "Getting Ahead on Your Job," "How to Study," "Meeting Your College Expense," and "Planning Your College Career" are extremely interesting and valuable.

The B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau, with the cooperation of the War and Navy Departments and the Department of Labor's Division of Training and Occupational Analysis, has produced two charts indicating the civilian counterparts of jobs in military and naval service. Both are in two colors. The one chart, "What You Can Do with Your Army Training as a Citizen," lists 124 Army jobs in order of importance. The Navy chart is very similar. Veterans may recall seeing the charts at Veterans Administration facilities, U. S. O. Clubs, and separation centers. The charts can be found at U. S. Employment Service offices, draft boards, schools, and manufacturing concerns.

A number of pamphlets on occupations have been published during the past several years. It will suffice here just to name a few of the many publications. Accounting, Book Publishing, Bricklaying and Sheet Metal Work, Chemistry, Engineering, Law, Real Estate, Labor Relations, and Men's Clothing Industry, are just a few of the many pamphlets. Each is written so that it will be interesting to young people. It contains detailed and accurate information on outlook, duties, preparation and entry, qualifications, earnings, working conditions, etc.

Dr. S. Blumenthal and Robert Shostek have written a 164-page book giving a comprehensive picture of professional occupations in fourteen fields of Jewish service. This book can be obtained through the B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau. Contents include information on such fields as the rabbinate, cantorial work, Jewish education, family case work, child welfare work, community relations, etc.

The Bureau has a pamphlet that covers the data on general and Jewish enrollments in 1534 college and universities by areas and states. It also covers data on 24 major professions.

Just off the press is the Directory of Professional Opportunities. This unique reference volume has been compiled as a guide to young people who are about to finish their professional or semi-professional training and are faced with the need for selection of a suitable city in which to make a start in their chosen occupation. Shown in this publication is the median family income in 1949 for almost 200 of the most populous cities and standard metropolitan areas, and the number of professional workers per 10,000 population for each of 20 selected occupations in 1950. There is a summary of the laws of each state regarding licensing and reciprocity.

Scores of B'nai B'rith lodges and women's chapters have presented to their local high schools, college and community agencies the new 1954 Vocational Information Kit. The kit contains 60 different pamphlets on different occupations and other subjects that are vital to sound career planning. In addition, as a part of the kit, there are nine illustrated wall charts covering the world of work. The recipient of each kit receives a one-year subscription to Career News. There are Job Charts for College Women, the book covering "Careers in Retail Business Ownership," and "What to Read" booklet that gives 1024 reading lists on 500 of America's leading occupations. All of this is a part of the Vocational Information Kit.

We have attempted to give only a bird's eye view of the wealth of material that is available through the B'nai B'rith Vocational Service Bureau. We feel that such a resource as this should not be overlooked. Perhaps by knowing where to get valuable information, we have made the road to success a little smoother.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Seeks Funds For Research

"Don't Give 'Til It Hurts; Give 'Til It Helps. The key to the Muscular Dystrophy problem is "Help," and only with the generous support of health minded citizens can research be accelerated in an effort to eradicate this crippler of humanity," stated David L. Wilkoff, chairman of the National Foundation for Muscular Dystrophy 1954 Western Pennsylvania Appeal. The cause of the progressive muscular deterioration and wasting which characterizes the disorder, transforming the healthy into the helpless, is yet unknown to medical science. More than 100,000 men, women and children in the United States alone are afflicted with this disease.

Through the National Foundation for Muscular Dystrophy, a non-profit, voluntary health foundation, vital research in pathology, neurology, orthopedics, and basic chemistry is being sponsored. Contributions will support not only research in the disease, but will also provide physical therapy and direct patient service for needy victims within the area. The 1954 national goal of $500,000 will enable the Foundation to support several new grants already approved by the Foundation's Medical Advisory Board.

Checks may be made out to the Western Pennsylvania Chapter, National Foundation for Muscular Dystrophy, and sent to P.O.B. 301, Pittsburgh 30.
